

GRAND JURY DECISION BELIEVED IMMINENT

LULL FOLLOWS HECTIC PARLEY OVER CHARGES

A lull in grand jury activity rested over the courthouse today, sandwiched between yesterday's reportedly lively session, with Supervisor N. E. West again accusing three county officials of unlawful conduct in office, and tomorrow's scheduled session, when the grand jury may conclude its consideration of the supervisor and his charges.

Assessor James Sleeper, Sheriff Logan Jackson and Auditor W. T. Lambert, special targets of the supervisor's reported broadsides yesterday, had no comment to make on his supposed statements.

Since the matter was before the grand jury, the grand jury was the proper source of expression upon it, they agreed. They had asked the grand jury to investigate all of the supervisors charges, had themselves been examined by the grand jury, and were content to await the grand jury's findings, they indicated.

NEW COLLEGE PLANS DISCUSSED AT MEET

dent lounges and administrative offices. The total space required under Hammond's plan is 118,549 square feet.

Figures presented to the meeting revealed that from 1928 to 1937 inclusive 687 men and 635 women have been graduated. It also was shown that approximately 66 percent of the graduates of Santa Ana High School enter Junior College.

Seven Building Plant
Members of the Citizens' committee, during discussion of a new Junior College, brought out the fact that no estimates have been made for the amount to be expended nor for the amount of property needed for the plant. Concensus seemed to favor a minimum of 30 acres with the possibility of a plant of seven buildings, including an administration building.

Plummer Bruns of the Citizens committee declared that the quicker a movement was started for a new Junior College the better. He favors a set of buildings with both educational and "eye appeal." Alex Brownridge, former member of the school board warned that the taxpayer would check thoroughly into the matter. He stressed the fact that the present equipment is inadequate. He suggested the elimination of the name "Junior" and proposed that the school be called a "district college."

Consider Taxpayer

"There is a good deal to consider from the taxpayers' viewpoint," A. N. Zerman pointed out. He said nothing is too good for Santa Ana and its schools, providing this is the proper time. "What is the estimated outlay? What will be the tax rate under this plan? How many buildings will be needed?" he asked. "You are assuming that a bond issue will go over. I'm not so sure. If this is not the proper or practical time, I would suggest that we wait. If we fall in a bond issue now, it would be even harder to vote one in another year. I don't say this is, or is not, the proper time. But let's be sure," he concluded. He added that increased personnel and an increase in the size of the teaching staff necessarily would mean added expense and must be figured into the total cost to the taxpayer.

George Wells, president of the Board of Education, declared that at the present time there does not seem to be much chance for financial assistance from the government, but added: "however a plan may be worked out."

Principal Crawford said he favored anything in the way of a Junior college that the community can afford and favored a new Junior college at the "proper time."

Mrs. Margaret Baker, a member of the board of education said she favored the proposal of a new Junior college plant if this is the proper time. She warned that the Fullerton Junior college is going ahead and "we must go on if we don't want to fall behind."

Mrs. Parker declared that conditions at the Junior college at the present time are terribly crowded.

No action was taken at the meeting yesterday and another conference of the same group will be held some time in February.

FEAR 25 DEAD IN DORMITORY BLAZE

who ran hysterically in all directions along the fire-blocked corridors.

After the fire was brought under control the hysteria continued—among grief-stricken parents whose sons were among the missing.

Some children escaped by leaping from windows or scrambling down the fire escape but many fell the four stories to the ice-coated ground.

Priests went among the more seriously injured administering the last rites of the church. Nuns from the nearby convent attempted to console bereaved parents.

Those who escaped without injury were exposed to below zero weather.

Officials believed the fire started in one of the dormitories, but the cause was not learned. Boys sleeping in the east wing awoke to find themselves surrounded by flames. In the panic which followed many were crushed and left unconscious in the building. Others were pushed from the fire escape landing by the pressure of those behind.

Volunteers aided police, firemen and church officers in the search for bodies in the smoldering debris. Survivors not in need of hospital care were taken to a building at the convent where a check of the dead and missing was started.

Four priests were missing. As each body was removed from the ruin, it was carried to the emergency morgue where attempts, often futile, were made to establish its identity. Many were so burned that authorities said identification would be possible only by process of elimination.

$25 Fine Levied In Hatchet Threat

Arthur, Sarinana, 23, 2216 West Fifth street, who allegedly threatened Juan Sarinana, of the same address, with a hatchet and then broke the windows of Juan's car with the hatchet, was fined $25 for disturbing the peace by Judge J. G. Mitchell in city court yesterday.

Two speeders, Grace E. Chagnala, El Toro, and Mrs. Harry F. Slater, Beverly Hills, were each fined $6 by Judge Mitchell.

B. Soza, Brea, was fined $5 for no operator's license and failure to appear.

LABOR COUNCIL IN PLEA TO ROOSEVELT

Citizens Association, recently organized in Orange county and consisting of known anti-union interests and individuals are at the present time raising a large fund for the avowed purpose of destroying organized labor as now constituted, and.

Cites Accusations
"Whereas, public officials and citizens have made public statements through the press that labor racketeering and extortion are prevalent in the county of Orange, and,

"Whereas, organized labor has suffered an almost irreparable injury through the press and other resources of the combined anti-union forces of this area, and,

"Whereas, the fundamental rights of workmen and women are in immediate danger through the coordinated efforts of public officials and labor-busting interests notorious in Orange county, and,

"Whereas, many concerns in Orange county employing thousands of men and women are engaged in interstate commerce, thereby coming under the provisions of the Wagner act,

Asks Investigators

"Now, therefore be it resolved, that we respectfully call on the President of the United States to immediately assign representatives of the Department of Justice to investigate charges of extortion and racketeering and those responsible for such charges, and that he use his good office in enlisting the aid of the Attorney General of the United States to immediately assign representatives of that department to investigate those interests in Orange county, and,

"Be it further resolved that Senator La Follette and his Civil Liberties Committee of the United States Senate immediately assign representatives of that committee to investigate charges of extortion and racketeering and those responsible for such charges, and,

Requests Cooperation
"Be it further resolved that the American Federation of Labor, through William Green, its president, the California State Federation of Labor, and the Central Labor Council of Orange county and the Building Trades Council and various other labor groups, be requested to forward copies of same

SHERIFF JACKSON GETS 5 DEPUTIES

today, the motion including the designation of all deputy sheriffs as members of the sheriff's criminal division, entirely under the sheriff's control.

Sheriff Jackson followed action of the board by assuring the assemblage that he intended to use the new men to the best possible advantage in giving the county efficient law enforcement. In response to a question from Charles Van Wyck, rancher, the sheriff said he expected to use the enlarged force to increase police protection to the outlying communities now most in need of it.

Today's action increases the sheriff's force by two deputies who were provided in the current year's budget and another three added at the request of the agricultural industry and grand jury.

Supervisor Harry Riley, of Anaheim, seconded West's motion, explaining that his initial hesitancy in supporting the plan last week was not an attempt to dictate to department heads, but was due to the responsibility of the board for tax expenditures.

Supervisor John Mitchell, who objected to acting a week ago, said today that in addition to adding the five new deputies, he would favor giving the sheriff as many more men as necessary to keep order in future emergencies.

Chairman Willard Smith, of Orange, declared that the sheriff will have the full backing of the board of supervisors in any such emergency.

Several ranchmen expressed their approval of the board's action, and there was general applause. One speaker said that, regardless of expense, everything should be done to keep Orange county "happy and peaceful." He suggested that other deputy sheriffs be appointed among the farmers.

The new ordinance will be effective in 30 days. Meanwhile the board is slated to act on a resolution appropriating the necessary funds for three of the deputies to the President of the United States, Senator La Follette, Attorney General Cummings, and the several senators and congressmen from this district.

who were not provided for in the budget.

The grand jury resolution presented to the board today recognized threats of violence and interruption of normal activities of the citizens, in urging additional deputies. The resolution was as follows:

WHEREAS, evidence has been presented that warrants the belief that our county is threatened with the interruption of the normal activities of many of our citizens because of threats of violence and intimidation on the part of irresponsible agitators, and

WHEREAS, we believe that the sheriff of the county is handicapped in maintaining peace and order and in law enforcement by reason of an insufficient number of full-time deputies, now therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, that we the Grand Jury of Orange County do respectfully recommend to the Board of Supervisors of Orange County that they forthwith authorize the sheriff to appoint such additional paid full-time deputies as may be deemed necessary to cope with the current situation, and

Be it further resolved that a copy of this resolution be transmitted by our secretary to the sheriff and to the board of supervisors.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

"Life" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon on Sunday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Golden Text was from John's first epistle: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God... In him was life; and the life was the light of men."

Among the Scriptural citations in the Lesson-Sermon were these words from the book of Job: "If iniquity be in thine hand, put it far away, and let not wickedness dwell in thy tabernacles. For then shalt thou lift up thy face without spot; yea, thou shalt be steadfast, and shalt not fear... And thine age shall be clearer than the noonday; thou shalt shine forth, thou shalt be as the morning."

A correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "Except for the error of measuring and limiting all that is good and beautiful, man would enjoy more than three score years and ten and still maintain his vigor, freshness, and promise. Man, governed by Immortal Mind, is always beautiful and grand. Each succeeding year unfolds wisdom, beauty, and holiness."

SUSPECT IN KIDNAP CASE RUSHED EAST

only after Anders already was on his way back to Chicago. He refused to say whether the prisoner went by air or train.

Hoover said Anders made a 23-page confession detailing how he kidnapped Ross with the aid of a confederate, collected the ransom, and then shot both men through the head.

But Hoover made only a brief statement of the confession and refused to elaborate. He made no mention of a third kidnapper described by the victim's secretary. He told no details or how or where the 72-year-old Ross was taken or kept, or of the circumstances that led Anders to shoot his own aid.

Hoover said Anders had a long criminal record but neither the FBI chief nor his aides would reveal it. Hoover shrugged off all inquiries and went to bed.

Suspect Other Crimes

The secrecy, unusual even in the close-mouthed G-men, brought reports that Hoover has not yet completed his investigation of the case, that he still is hunting a third man, that Anders may be suspected of other crimes. Anders was a logger in Washington, where Charles Mattson was abducted and slain in what federal agents regard as now their only unsolved kidnap case.

Ross was kidnapped near Chicago the night of Sept. 20, 1937. His family received proof that he was alive before the paid ransom, but nothing was heard from the kidnaper after the money was delivered, and Ross' body was not found.

In 27 typewritten pages, the debonair Anders, who had been living in the grand manner, detailed his crimes to the G-men. He said he first shot his victim, then his partner whom he identified as Atwood Gray. The bodies he hid near Rockford, Ill., presumably across the state line in Wisconsin. G-men early today were seeking the bodies.

Squandered Ransom

Only $14,402.28 of the $50,000 ransom was recovered by the G-men. They believed that the rest had been spent in race track betting and high living. He had left an unmistakable trail of ransom bills at race tracks and G-men following it stalked him across the continent twice before they caught up with him at a pari-mutuel window of the Santa Anita track, a ransom bill in his hand, on Friday.

He was taken at once to the department of justice offices here and questioned. Through Friday night, and part of Sunday, Anders denied any connection whatsoever with the kidnaping. Confronted with an ever increasing quantity of circumstantial evidence, he finally confessed.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the G-men, arrived Saturday and late last night he called in newspapermen and told them of Anders' arrest and confession. Anders already was en route back to Chicago, presumably by airplane. He had waived extradition.

Anders was described as exceptionally calloused—as fancying himself a master criminal, a super-tough guy. Hoover said that in addition to confessing one kidnaping and two murders, he confessed 20 bank robberies.

SMASHED EGGS USED TO TRAP 4 SUSPECTS

SAN JOSE, Jan. 18.—(UP)—A trail of smashed eggs enabled federal agents to find their way to the headquarters of an alleged counterfeiting ring, where $100,000 in bogus $5 bills was seized and four men arrested.

Secret service men who conducted the raid said that they were unfamiliar with the neighborhood when they first received the "tip" regarding the asserted counterfeiters.

As the agents trailed the suspects to the home of Police Sala at night, they dropped an egg every 50 feet. The following day the eggs served as guideposts to the raiders.

MAN IN S. A. $8,000 SWINDLE ATTEMPT NABBED IN WISCONSIN

The man who attempted unsuccessfully, a year ago to fleece Atty. R. Y. Williams of Santa Ana, out of more than $8000 by forging his name to checks, is in custody of police authorities at Watoma, Wis., it was revealed today by Santa Ana police.

The man, Edward Davis, 35, having a score of aliases, was arrested in connection with alleged forgeries in the east.

Arrested 30 Times
According to police records, Davis has been arrested or come under police observation approximately 30 times in connection with forgeries, thefts and fictitious check writing.

Davis confessed, according to authorities, that he wrote three checks totaling $8,406, signing Williams' name then deposited them in banks elsewhere. Before he could obtain cash for the deposits, the attempted "bunco" was discovered. The attempt was made last February.

MERKER HEADS COMMITTEES IN EMBLEM SALES

Committee in charge of the sale of "Fight Infantile Paralysis" buttons as a part of Santa Ana's participation in the nation-wide fund campaign for the National Infantile Paralysis Foundation started an intensive campaign today, Fred Merker, county chairman in charge of the program, announced this morning.

Mrs. Claudia Worswick has been named chairman of the women's committee that will sell the lapel buttons in the business district. She in turn named Mrs. J. Russell Wilson as sub-chairman. Members of committee aiding in the sale are: Mesdames Roch Bradshaw, Jack Hanna, Hans Wahlberg, Fred Perry, Harold Dale, Lee Smith, Crawford Nalle, Herbert Stroschein, Misses Marian Brownridge, Martha Tutthill, Nancy White, Janet Diehl, and Mesdames George Briggs, E. D. White and Frank Seidel.

With the exception of Mesdames Briggs, White and Seidel, who are directors in the Crippled Children's Society of Orange County, all workers on this committee are members of Junior Ebel.

At the same time, the committee headed by George Tobias will start sale of the buttons in the commercial and industrial district and appear before service clubs.

Postmaster Frank Harwood said today that in addition to the lapel buttons Founders' Books, for those who wish to contribute more than 10 cents to the Foundation, are available. These books are available for $1, $2 and $5 and may be obtained from members of Tobias' committee, Bank of America, Security-First National Bank, Commercial National Bank, the First National Bank and from Wiley Carlyle at the courthouse.

Today Merker and Harwood delivered lapel buttons to all schools in the city. These buttons will be sold to the children under direction of Superintendent of Schools Frank Henderson who is chairman of the school committee.

On the night of Jan. 29, the closing night of the campaign a group of Boy Scouts selected by Scout Executive Harrison White will sell buttons on the streets in the downtown district.

LATE NEWS OF ORANGE AND VICINITY

LIST MEETINGS OF CLUB GROUPS

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Announcements made at a meeting of the Orange Woman's club yesterday included that of a series of contract bridge lessons which will begin tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. and continue until 11:30 a. m. The events are to be sponsored by the Second Economics section of the organization.

Robinson To Talk
The meeting of the Garden section on January 25 at the clubhouse was announced and the speaker will be C. H. Robinson, who will talk on "Fertilizers." Luncheon will be served. What to plant in the garden the present month will be discussed and a garden tour of the Royal Mueller gardens has been arranged.

Plans for the annual birthday luncheon of the club February 7 were revealed, Mrs. George Everett Peterson, making the announcement. A Spanish theme is to be stressed and the speaker is to be Señora Elvira Borja, of Los Angeles, who will speak on "The Art of Living in Latin America." The state president, Mrs. Duncan Robinson, and a number of state and county officers are to be guests.

Luncheon Arranged
Mrs. B. D. Stanley, president of the club, told of seating arrangements for the luncheon. Honor guests and past presidents are to be seated at a large round table in the center with other tables radiating from this hub and section members seated in groups. Spanish shawls, combs and costumes are to be worn by the membership.

Announcement was made of the meeting of the drama section of

Beach Pastor
To Speak
On 'New Year'

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—"The New Year" will be the topic of an address to be given tomorrow night at a church night program at the First Methodist church by Dr. Johnston Calhoun, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, of Long Beach. Dinner is to be served at 6:30 p. m. and the address is scheduled for 7:30 p. m.

Members of the L. A. C. class and the Home Builders' class of the church will have charge of serving and Donald Krueger, baritone, will sing. The third of a series of talks on the Methodist mission program for the year will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Arthur T. Hobson. R. C. Patton will preside.

O. E. S. Officers
Luncheon Guests

FULLERTON, Jan. 18. — Mrs. Alice Whitaker, of Fullerton, assisted by Eva Jarvis, of Brea, entertained the members of the Associate Matrons' association recently with a luncheon, carrying out the Valentine motif. This was the regular meeting day for the group and a business meeting followed the luncheon.

The new officers, Alice Lewis, of Norwalk, president; Georgiana Boyd, of Buena Park, secretary-treasurer, assumed their offices at this meeting. Others attending were Alice Herman, La Habra; Martha Pickering, Huntington Beach; Clara Souver, Santa Ana; Iva Lee, Orange; Emma Henry, Garden Grove; Gae Kellong, Yorba Linda; Josephine Hartman, Artesia; Jeanette Tarpley, Santa Ana, and Ruth Jane Davis, La Habra.

A silent tribute was paid to N. J. Whitney, who passed away Saturday afternoon. It was stated that until yesterday, Mrs. Whitney had never been absent for a regular meeting of the club in her 14 years of membership. The flag salute was conducted by Mrs. Clyde Watson.

SPEAKER DECLARES JAPANESE
SURPRISED BY EASY VICTORIES

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Dr. A. Polyzoides of the University of California, noted writer and lecturer, told members of the Orange Men's club meeting last night at the Trinity Episcopal church parish house that Japan's operations in China had exceeded her most sanguine expectations.

The things Japan has accomplished in China in the past six months seem almost miraculous when prospects of six months ago are viewed, the speaker declared.

Dr. Polyzoides took the place of J. Stuart Neary, noted labor attorney, who was unable to be present to speak to the club.

Japan Surprised
"Japan is now rubbing her eyes wondering how easy it was to walk into China and take anything she wanted with practically no questions asked," the speaker declared.

"When Japan launched her undeclared war on China, she expected desperate resistance on the part of the armies of China; she expected strong action on the part of the great powers of Europe and the United States, and a bloody and expensive war coupled with major complications from Russia. None, however, materialized.

"Thus to Manchuria, safely tucked away since 1931, the five northern provinces of China have been added, while Shanghai and Nanking have been thrown into the bargain."

Chinese Attitude Told
The attitude of the people in China toward the Japanese aggression is two-fold, the speaker asserted. There are the millions of people who have the lowest standard of living in the world and who are entirely united in the feeling that Japan is enemy; and there is the group of businessmen in the cities who want security and orderliness which the Chinese government has not furnished during the past 25 years, he said. The business element would welcome any security that would enable them to carry on their business, Dr. Polyzoides said.

Dr. Polyzoides said that since the foreign trade of the United States is of such vital importance to the prosperity of this country that there is sure to be an economic war between Japan and the United States. An economic war is very likely to develop into one of another kind, he warned.

The speaker was introduced by M. M. Fishback, and President Don Smiley presided over the meeting. Entertainment was furnished by Charles Armstrong Jr., who presented a number of vocal solos accompanied by Miss Jeanice Winget.

Mrs. J. Scofield
Dinner Hostess

LYA HABRA, Jan. 18.—Observing her birthday anniversary by giving a party, Mrs. J. A. Scofield, was hostess at a dinner party honoring Mrs. James Herrmann, a recent bride and Miss Edith LaMonte, whose wedding to Wilfred Buchanan, will be an event in the near future. The lavender and yellow color motif was carried out in the dining room, where heather acacia formed the floral decoration. A decorated cake bearing the names of the two honorees formed a part of the dessert course, which was served by candlelight.

Mrs. Herman was presented with pottery and gifts from Edith LaMonte. Visiting and games occupied the guests during the evening. Those who served the dinner were Wilfred Buchanan, LaMonte Scofield, J. A. Scofield and James Herman.

Attending were Mrs. J. A. LaMonte, Mrs. J. C. Herrmann, Miss Edith LaMonte, Dorothy LaMonte, Mrs. Jesse Insko, Marie Anderson, Mrs. James Herrmann, Mrs. Haradin, Mrs. F. B. Herrmann, Mrs. L. L. Clark, Mrs. P. B. Clark, Mrs. T. W. LaMonte, Mrs. Nellie LaMonte and Mrs. J. A. Scofield.

HOLD SKATING PARTY

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18. — Members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church formed a skating party to the rink in Santa Ana recently. Chaperoning the group were Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Longson, Jerry Mills, Paul Applebury and E. C. Smith.

FARM CENTER
MEETING SET

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—West Orange Farm center members are to meet tonight at 6:30 o'clock at the Farm Bureau building to hear a talk to be given by John Winterbourne, who has gained wide recognition in his research work as supervisor of the W.P.A. anthropological project in the county for some years.

The meeting will open with the pot luck supper and the director's report will be given by E. G. Warner. The convention at Santa Ana will be reported by a number of those who attend.

Music will be presented by Sallie Coe Mueller, radio artist and concert singer. John H. Meyer, president, will be in charge of the meeting.

ORANGE PARK ACRES

ORANGE PARK ACRES, Jan. 18.—J. B. "Daddy" Hubert, engineer at the water plant visited his daughter and granddaughter at Pasadena recently.

Mrs. Victor Hualde has been entertaining her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Selznitz of Wibaux, Mont. Later in the month she expects her sister, Mrs. Hiller, from Brainard, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Johnson, daughter and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hofer have purchased acreage on Annapolis street from the estate of the late H. Manthas. The Johnsons have already started a small house and expect to plant the land to avocados and oranges this spring. They are now living at San Clemente, where Mr. Johnson is employed.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson have Mrs. Johnson's father, Mr. Reilly, of Los Angeles, as guest.

CLUB TOLD OF
LATEST BOOKS

ORANGE, Jan. 18.—Opening with clever and pertinent "news flashes" given by Mrs. Mabel Faulkner, members of the Orange Woman's club enjoyed a program yesterday by members of the First Toastmasters section of the Orange club, with Mrs. Edward Tufts as speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Tufts was formerly a book reviewer for a large store in Los Angeles. Mrs. H. P. Taylor, president of the section, introduced the speakers.

Trio In Numbers

Mrs. Faulkner told of news ranging from styles for women to the latest international relations. Music was furnished by the Robinson trio, violin, cello and piano, from Long Beach.

Mrs. Tufts reviewed a number of books, all relating to the South Sea islands. The first book was "Pacific Adventure," telling of the Japanese colonization of the island of Yap and other islands extending south to the equator. In the group the United States has one small island, used as a base for the China Clipper, the speaker said.

"Roaming in Hawaii," by Harry Frank, gives little known facts of Hawaii, said Mrs. Tufts, as she stated that the second largest cattle ranch in the nation is in Hawaii with Japanese, Chinese and Hawaiian cowboys dressed in the typical fashion of the plains. The second oldest high school west of St. Louis is in Honolulu, she said.

Books Reviewed
Other books reviewed were "Hawaiian Tapestry," by Antoinette Witherton; "This Life I Have Loved," by Isabel Field and "Great Wide Beautiful World," by Juanita Harrison. Mrs. Tufts closed her talk by quoting one of Dan Bland's poems, "Things Forgotten," from his latest book, "The Rest of the Road."

Hostesses were Mrs. H. F. Taylor, Mrs. M. L. Pearson, Miss Flo Scarritt, Mrs. E. H. Smith, Mrs. F. E. Hallman and Mrs. V. C. Shippee. Presiding at the attractive table were Miss Scarritt and Mrs. Taylor. The section's first toastmaster was Miss Scarritt. The table was lighted with pale pink candles and centered with speetees and maidenhair fern. The lovely old silver service used was an heirloom belonging to Mrs. Fred Alden.

London still has about 40,000 horses in use. There were about double this number a decade ago.

146 CITY LOTS BACK ON ROLLS

Following the recommendation of City Attorney Lew Blodget, city council last night voted approval of a resolution that will bring 146 lots in the south part of town back on the tax rolls.

According to Blodget, these lots had been sold to the state for delinquent taxes. Recent action on the part of the state legislature will permit the city to repurchase through the county, these lots and resell them to the former owners who are now in a position to keep up the taxes.

"At present, these lots are being supported by the city without any taxes being levied on them," Blodget said. "Adoption of this resolution is the only method of getting them back on the tax rolls so the city will have some income from them."

BUCHU PILLS

Buchu is one of the oldest drugs known to medical science. It is a very valuable agent in most all forms of kidney trouble. The kidneys act as blood filters for your system — sometimes they need a stimulant and then is the time for you to get a package of McCoy's Buchu Compound Pills. These pills contain buchu, Uva Ursi, etc., and have a stimulating diuretic effect. Sold at all McCoy Drug Stores.—Adv.

BUSINESS WOMEN THRILLED BY ACCOUNT OF TREKS IN EUROPE

Interesting as was Miss Jessie Coman's account of her life at Florence Nightingale International House while a psychology student at King's College, London, as given last night for Santa Ana Business and Professional Women, her experiences in lesser known middle European countries were even more enthralling.

Miss Coman, engaged in public health nursing in Fullerton, was presented by Miss Dorothy Decker as guest speaker at the local club meeting in the Doris Kathryn. In return for aid she gave King's College students, she was entertained in various homes in Estonia, Czechoslovakia and Latvia, as well as in the more familiar Scandinavian countries.

Self Sufficient

Village and rural life, the manner in which the old country estates produce virtually all the things essential to living, the part played by the church, feast days and holidays all passed in colorful review before the clubwomen as she described them.

One of Miss Coman's conclusions was of the unfailing appreciation of middle European countries for American assistance such as the Rockefeller foundation, and other aids, especially as extended through the Red Cross. The latter is a very vital feature especially in Estonia and Latvia where it handles virtually all public health nursing. In concluding her talk, Miss Coman took her auditors back to London by a vivid description of the Coronation parade, which she saw from

Mrs. Geeting In Capital Conclave

Delegates to the National Conference on the Cause and Cure of War started their 13th annual meeting today in Washington, D. C. The parley will continue through Friday night.

Mrs. Mae Geeting, of Santa Ana, delegate to the conference from the Orange County Women's Council, arrived in Washington, D. C. last night to attend sessions of the conference. Mrs. Geeting, while named as a delegate through the Y. W. C. A., will represent all women's organizations in Orange county participating in the county council.

Young Santa Ana Man Is Honored

Roland Pickhardt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Pickhardt, 820 Bush street, has been elected president of the Ministerial and Missionary organization of William Jewell college, word received here today, revealed.

Pickhardt will occupy the presidency for both winter and spring terms. He is a senior at the college this year and is studying for the ministry, majoring in English and minoring in Greek. He also is studying German.

MOD OFFICIALS GIVE TALKS AT ANNUAL DINNER

Receipts of $391,769, in spite of the tremendous elimination of fruit because of frost damage, are shown in the annual report of the Anaheim Co-operative Orange association, as given today by H. W. Pierce, manager. In his formal report Pierce termed the year "disappointing and difficult, and in many ways, because of the freeze of last January, perhaps the worst we have ever experienced."

375 Members Present

The annual meeting was at noon today in the St. Boniface hall. A turkey dinner was served by ladies of the Altar society of the church to 275 members of the co-operative and their guests. The business session was directed by J. A. Baker, president of the Anaheim group. Talks on industry affairs were made by J. A. Steward, general sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors; Bruce McDaniel, general manager of the distributors; A. E. Isham, field manager, and A. L. Chandler, manager of the fertilizer department. Von Ellsworth, tax expert of the State Farm Bureau federation, and Holmes Bishop, of the Associated Farmers, also made short talks.

Excerpts from the report given by Pierce show that at the beginning of last season, the association had a tree-crop estimate of 900 carloads of fruit, but that, because of the freeze, 78.84 per cent of the Valencia's picked were damaged by frost and therefore sold only for juice purposes.

Fruit Damaged

In addition to this heavy reduction in shippable crop, much fruit was so severely damaged that it was not taken to the house for handling. In the Valencia handling, pools one and two had the heaviest tonnage, with 235,161 and 126,574 field boxes, respectively.

Status of taxes, labor indications and problems and the outlook for the coming season also were touched upon in the report.

"Generally, there apparently is

10 NEW STUDY COURSES READY

School officials at Santa Ana Junior college today announced 10 new courses of study offered students during the second semester, which begins Feb. 1.

Included in the new courses are Dr. John Brown Mason's and Calvin C. Flint's junior forums, known as history 10-A and 70-A; Dr. Mason's economics 11, a resume of the industrial history of America; Mrs. John L. Tessmann's Astronomy 15, designed to give the development of thinking up to the present age; and Miss Hazel Dawson's new class in home economics, 33-A, dieting, foods, and nutrition. Art 1-B, under the direction of Miss Frances Egge, gives the development of art from early times.

English Courses

English courses include one under Miss Agnes Todd Miller, modern authors, English 7-B; another creative writing, English 31, will be taught by Mrs. Eleanor Northcross.

L. L. Beeman will deal with the problems of the consumer in a new course in economics, course 18. Aviation fundamentals are offered under H. O. Russell's supervision in aviation 7. C. Norman Hicks' class in radio technique comes under the name of physics 11.

Director D. K. Hammend, in announcing the new courses, stated that registration and instruction plans were nearly completed. The first semester ends Jan. 28.

Bees, on being transported from a cool climate to one of perpetual summer, will soon cease to gather food for winter, being content to live from day to day.

Fifth largest of the lakes of the world, Lake Michigan, has an area of 22,450 square miles.

not a large increase in the Valencia production for 1938," the report states. "The effect of the freeze was to stimulate trees where firing was not done last January, and in unheated groves a large crop is set. In districts where there is great heater coverage, the crop is much lighter."

HOLLYWOOD — THE FIRST thing one feels like saying on seeing Walter O'Keefe is, "So THAT'S Walter O'Keefe!" Small in conspicuous looking... blue suit, brown shoes, favorite garb. But the minute he opens his mouth you realize it's brains only, that make good comedians.

While last Tuesday's edition of "Hollywood Mardi Gras" was nothing to blaze heated over, O'Keefe lends an easily recognized tone to the show that we're sure will develop into a 4-star "Best Bet" class. And now that Charlie Butterworth hasn't so much to do, he's beginning to sound a little bit funny to these ears. Not much, but a little bit.

It is this writer's opinion, though, that the "Dramateurs" will have to be shelved. While a big success on "Town Hall Tonight" with New Yorkers in the role of stooges, O'Keefe is finding Hollywood audiences too show-wise to give out with the wanted response.

If the dishes are washed and dried in time, you might give the show some attention. (KFI, 6:30)

Dis & Data . . . stuff

Even though he is a movie star, Bing Crosby is probably the least photographed radio performer in Movieland. Just doesn't like to have his picture taken, he says. If he wasn't such a good guy, he'd probably be despised by publicity and press camera men.

Walt Disney is the voice of Mickey Mouse. Or did you know that? . . . Andy can't read the script without glasses. Have you been listening to A. and A. lately? Seems to me their act grows even better with the years.

Things that make the poor college student wonder if all that midnight oil burning is worth it: Lew Lehr draws approximately $1000 weekly for three or four minutes of heckling Ben Bernie.

The California Newspaper Publishers Association annual convention, which gets under way at Riverside Friday, will find radio tuning to a portion of their program. CBS will carry the address of William B. Munroe and an interview with Norman Alley, Panay newsreel scooper, this coming Saturday.

"Big Town," the Edward G. Robinson and Claire Trevor half-hour, has moved to New York for two, maybe three airings. A murder mystery, "Tea and Crumpets," is the dramatization, with the "racket" angle cast aside for a week. (KNX, 5)

Guests: Jimmy Durante with Jack Oakie. The soloing of Jo Stafford, one of the choristers, shows great promise. Nice quality, intelligent interpretation. (KNX, 6:30)

Margit Hegedus, violinist, with Leon Leonard's orchestra. If it's violin music you like, you can't go wrong here. (KFWB, 8 p. m.)

John Barrymore with Al Jolson. John will josh the family temperament between interruptions from Martha Raye and Parkyakarkus. (KNX, 8:30)

The Old Ranger's tale during "Death Valley Days" deals with "highgrading," the racket of stealing ore in the mining world. According to the story, nowhere in the world did this infamous bit of piracy reach such startling proportions as it did during the early days of Goldfield. (KFI, 9)

If you missed the voice of Mother (Minetta Ellen) Barbour on Sunday's episode of "One Man's Family," don't worry. She's in San Francisco closing her hilltop home. Mother Barbour will be back in the cast January 23.

Strangely enough, Hymie Shertzer was given a violin audition by Benny Goodman—but now he plays sax and clarinet in the band. Which leaves a rather nice opening for swing-haters.

Did you know that Lois King, one of the Three King Sisters, and Alvino Rey, singing guitarist, with Horace Heidt's Brigadiers, are Mr. and Mrs.?

EXPERT GIVES TALK AT ANAHEIM EBELL

M. B. Dunkle, eminent member of the California Fuchsia society, was guest speaker this week at the Anaheim Ebell Home and Garden section meeting held in the I. O. O. F. hall.

There were more than 400 kinds of fuchsia plants in California, none of which is indigenous to the state, according to the speaker. Another interesting fact is that most fuchsias are distinctive original types, as there has been little crossing of varieties.

Fuchsia, the shade-loving plant, requires plenty of nourishment, sufficient moisture, and no cultivation. As the plant demands fresh soil constantly, it is a very poor pot plant. It would mean replanting two or three times a year.

Mr. Dunkle pointed out that some varieties of fuchsia are severely affected by plant pests while others are completely immune to them. Only one type of the shade plant, the Rose of Castile, can grow successfully in very intense heat and sunlight.

During his speech Mr. Dunkle exhibited several specimens as he discussed them, among which were the Jupiter, Storm King, L'Enfant Prodigue, Avalanche, Diamond and the Fulgens.

The lecturer stated that he believes the Jupiter to be the best all-year variety. It grows from

WE, THE PEOPLE

By JAY FRANKLIN

THE ANTI-LYNCHING BILL

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The Anti-Lynching bill should pass the senate and become law.

Granted that it was conceived in Northern self-righteousness, that it is being brought forth in a spirit of sectional vengeance, and that it offers the anti-New Deal Southern senators a priceless chance to escape reprisals by the voters whom they have betrayed—granted all these things, the Wagner-Van Nuys bill is another and a necessary milestone on the road to the supremacy of the national government and the burial of the dead doctrine of "States Rights."

No sane man can pretend that lynching has not declined in the South, though uninvestigated murders of Negroes by white men are still considerable in number. As a matter of fact, the North and the West may need an anti-lynching law far more than will the South in another 10 years. The lynching spirit has already manifested itself in Detroit of the Black Legion, in Chicago of the Memorial Day massacre, the "Little Steel" towns, in Kentucky's "Bloody Harlan four to six feet high. The bud is purple and red when young, changing to a uniform purple as it develops.

county," in Mayor Hague's Jersey City, as well as in the Imperial Valley of California and on the Pacific waterfront. The status of the Southern Negro now offers an excuse for legislation which may yet protect unpopular Northerners and Westerners from vigilantes and terrorism in the years to come.

From a political point of view, the Southern Bourbons deserve to have this measure crammed down their gaping gullets. When Southern representatives in Congress undertook to block the wages-and-hours bill and to prevent national labor reform and social readjustment, they marked themselves for reprisals by the embittered Northerners. The only question was whether Northern vengeance would be expressed by smashing to cotton control proposals of the new farm bill, or by forcing through the anti-lynching bill or by both. The spirit of vengeance against Southern sabotage of the New Deal is still strong in Congress.

That this measure is a God-send to men like Connally of Texas, Bailey of North Carolina, Cotton Ed Smith of South Carolina and other die-hards and blow-hards of the old democracy is obvious.

They can use it to inflame race hatred in their states to a degree which may lead to their re-election, despite their betrayal of the party's pledges and their desertion of the party's leadership.

With supple cynicism, the Republicans—who used to be the "only friends of the Negro"—have supported the Constitutional "right" of the southern states to permit their citizens to burn, hang, shoot and otherwise murder their colored neighbors without due process of law and without effective interference from the national government. The remains of the party of Abe Lincoln has at last joined the remains of the party of Jeff Davis. This is the best political joke of the country.

Now the only question which interests the New Dealers in all this unholy hullabaloo is the matter of states rights. The supreme court has left these "rights" a hollow shell so far as concerns state control of big business. The federal automobile law, the Lindbergh law and the road funds and other relief and spending policies have already begun to break down the local police power and to alienate control of local budgets. States rights are a dead horse which won't run except in the form of a political nightmare, and the New Deal plan for "Seven TVAS" offers a modern substitute for local self-government in the shape of regional planning. The rival conferences of the New England governors and of the governors of the southeastern states suggest how the wind, as distinguished from the hot air, is really blowing.

It is time to bury, once and for all, the politics of the Civil War, to end the states rights issue and the Negro issue, to take the South back into the union on equal terms, and to substitute a regional federalism for the decayed and phosphorescent federalism of the so-called sovereign states. The anti-lynching bill is a move in that direction.

ARMS CACHE IS FOUND; JAIL 19

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Nineteen persons were under arrest today in connection with a gun battle and the seizure of an alleged fascist arms cache at Santa Cruz, 18 miles from the capital.

A sanitary inspector accidentally uncovered the arsenal when he arrived to investigate a report that a family was suffering from typhus. He was refused admittance after being told that the family had been moved to a hospital.

The inspector summoned officers and when they forced their way into the yard of the house they were met with a volley of fire from a shed. Two men were arrested there. Others fled, but police arrested 17 in a roundup of suspects.

In the shed they seized eight heavy machine guns, 6 light machine guns, and 300 rifles. Police said the place was a former headquarters of the outlawed Integralistas, or green shirted fascists.

COUNTY APPROVES WIRING PROJECT

Remodelling and repairing electrical wiring in the courthouse group of county buildings, to conform with safety requirements of the California Industrial Accident Commission, was authorized today by the board of supervisors. Total cost of the job will be approximately $7900.

The work was ordered done under supervision of G. E. Price, county electrical inspector who had just completed a check up of state requirements recently outlined for the board. The board also authorized Dr. K. H. Sutherland, county health officer to present new contracts to seven Orange county cities for continuation of enforcement of health laws. The 10-year contracts have expired and must be renewed at this time.

The new contracts to be presented to the city councils of Brea, La Habra, Fullerton, Anaheim, date from July, 1937 and will continue indefinitely. The only change Seal Beach, Santa Ana, Tustin, in the contracts will require the cities to pay the cost of enforcing local ordinances. Enforcement of state laws will be without charge.

The number "13" is considered unlucky because there were thirteen persons at the Last Supper and Judas is represented as the thirteenth guest.

Campaign Is Opened By Civic Group

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 18.—The recently appointed finance committee of the local chamber of commerce is conducting an extensive campaign, the purpose of which is to place the organization on a basis whereby a full-time paid secretary may be employed.

The committee, comprising Frank B. Hevener, Gene Douglas, and Armer Gunnett, will report at next Monday's dinner meeting, open to the public, to be held at Hotel Laguna. It was stated yesterday that, without a membership drive having as yet been started, numerous members have joined the chamber, which is expected to announce its plans for 1938 at the dinner next week.

CLASH FEATURES SHIP HEARINGS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Disagreement between members of the Senate commerce committee today marked hearings on the extension of federal subsidies to intercoastal shipping.

The clash came as Charles Page, executive vice president of the San Francisco chamber of commerce, urged the committee to grant subsidies to stimulate intercoastal shipping.

Page said that revocation of ocean mail contracts and subsidies under which the Grace lines and Panama Pacific lines had been operating has resulted in operating deficits causing withdrawal of the lines. The Grace Line has abandoned Pacific Coast runs for South American routes, Page said, and Panama Pacific Lines have announced intention to discontinue service in April unless further subsidy is granted.

Sen. Bennett C. Clark, D. Mo., said that much intercoastal traffic consisted of pleasure cruises. He asked whether it was justifiable for the people of the United States to be taxed to permit pleasure cruises to pass through the canal toll-free.

Sen. William McAdoo, D. Cal., said he "wished to repudiate the 'luxury liner' idea." Much passenger service, he said, was composed of business travelers and others.

Sen. Hiram Johnson, R. Cal., recommended that Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the maritime commission, be called to express the commission's views on the subject. Chairman Royal S. Copeland, D. N. Y., said the commis-

$2800 PAYMENT RECALLS CRASH

The county yesterday paid off a $2800 damage judgment for $2500, thus wiping off one of the obligations arising out of an ambulance wreck west of Santa Ana, in which the crew of two men were killed, and a service station burned.

Satisfaction of judgment against the county was filed yesterday in court by Attorney David D. French, representing Charles C. Wilson, who was injured when his car collided with the speeding county ambulance.

Two other court actions growing out of the accident still are pending. Trial of a $15,000 suit brought by Roy Head, owner of the service station, against both Wilson and the county, is scheduled next Monday in superior court.

February 1 is the date set for trial of a $25,000 suit filed by Mrs. Ernest Biggs, widow of the ambulance driver, against Charles G. Wilson.

COUNTY MAY SEEK ACTION ON ROUTE

Orange county may take the lead in forcing Los Angeles county to cooperate in the proposed extension of West Seventeenth street to Hathaway street, thereby providing a straighter route to Long Beach.

Fred H. Bixby, Long Beach and Orange county rancher and capitalist, requested the board's cooperation in the movement and was assured of such help.

John Mitchell, supervisor from the Third district where the extension would be constructed, said money for the county's share of the extension was budgeted and if given the necessary rights-of-way, will start immediate construction.

He said the road would be built up to the Los Angeles county line and attempt to force that county to continue with the improvement. Bixby said that he could and would provide the necessary rights-of-way.

Testifying this morning before Presiding Judge James L. Allen, Orley Wright, Orange, who is suing Harry D. Zimmer, Anaheim rancher, for $30,000 for the alleged alienation of his wife's affections, said that, after their divorce, Mrs. Wright told him that "there was nothing you ever did that caused me to cease loving you."

Charles C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, testified that discontinuance of the Grace and Panama Pacific Lines would leave the west coast without adequately equipped refrigerator ships for swift fruit transport.

On direct examination by his attorney, J. B. Tucker, Wright charged that Mrs. Julia Zimmer, wife of the man who is accused of stealing the love of Mrs. Wright, had been involved with another man. This evidence was ordered from the records upon objection of S. B. Kaufman, representing Wright on the grounds that it had no bearing on the case before the court.

Charles C. Teague, president of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, testified that discontinuance of the Grace and Panama Pacific Lines would leave the west coast without adequately equipped refrigerator ships for swift fruit transport.

On direct examination by his attorney, J. B. Tucker, Wright charged that Mrs. Julia Zimmer, wife of the man who is accused of stealing the love of Mrs. Wright, had been involved with another man. This evidence was ordered from the records upon objection of S. B. Kaufman, representing Wright on the grounds that it had no bearing on the case before the court.

FULLERTON TENT AND G. A. R. POST INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—New officers of the Fullerton tent of Daughters of the Union Veterans and of Fullerton post 131, Grand Army of the Republic, were installed at open ceremonies at the Fullerton Odd Fellows hall yesterday.

The new G.A.R. officers, who make up the whole post of the veterans of the Civil War, are William Crandall, department post commander; Juan de la Guerra, senior vice commander and Free Stuckie, adjutant quartermaster. Mrs. Mona Tanner, who is secretary and Mrs. Charless Ferguson escorted the officers for the ceremony.

The new officers of the D.U.V. include Mrs. Mary Robertson, replacing Mrs. Silpha Pearson as president; Mrs. Mollie Race, senior vice president; Mrs. Mary Siebenahl, junior vice president; Mrs. Julia Cusick, chaplain; Mrs. Jennie Minton, treasurer; Mrs. Pearlson, council member No. 1; Mrs. Minnie Shay, council member No. 2; Mrs. Maude Thompson, council member No. 3; Mrs. Anna French, patriotic instructor; Mrs. Hazel Smalley, secretary; Mrs. Jessie Anderson, press correspondent; Mrs. Monte Porter, guide; Mrs. Sallie Gibb, guard; Mrs. Media Stueckie, assistant guard; Mrs. Ola Everett, Mrs. Cora Houston, Mrs. Emma Vest and Mrs. Pearl Hemus, color bearers.

Mrs. Lillian Gardner, of Los Angeles, and her installing staff made up of members of tents of Southern California, installed the officers. She was assisted by Mrs. Clara Llewellyn, Huntington Park, guide; Mrs. Grace Colling, Upland; Mrs. Jane Filkins, Pomona; Mrs. Mary Harrington, Fullerton and Mrs. Clara Mosher, Los Angeles, color bearers; Mrs. Rowena Grout, Santa Ana, chaplain; Mrs. Charless Ferguson, Fullerton, guard; Mrs. Nellie Parker, Santa Ana, junior vice president; Mrs. Mabel Tuffree, Fullerton, senior vice president; Mrs. Della Bishop, Orange, secretary.

Articles of incorporation, filed in superior court here today by the LaVida Beverages Company, show a capitalization of $250,000. Michael Luddy and six other residents of Los Angeles, are directors of the corporation.

Court Notes

Joseph T. O'Brien, 71, of Santa Ana, was convicted yesterday by Superior Judge N. G. Ames of a morals offense against an 11-year-old Santa Ana girl. At conclusion of the hearing he applied for probation, and hearing was set for January 28.

Mrs. Nellie L. Johnson today filed suit in superior court for a divorce from W. Egbert Johnson, whom she charged with cruelty. The couple married at Yuma, September 21, 1936, and separated last December 15.

Articles of incorporation, filed in superior court here today by the LaVida Beverages Company, show a capitalization of $250,000. Michael Luddy and six other residents of Los Angeles, are directors of the corporation.

FARMERS TO MEET

Orange County Associated Farmers will convene at the Orange Woman's clubhouse Jan. 26 for a dinner meeting and series of talks. About 500 ranchers are expected to be in attendance.

PEDESTRIAN KILLED

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Albrecht, 73, North Sacramento, was killed instantly last night when she was struck by an automobile driven by Donald Schroeder, 15 of Hagginwood.

The accident occurred as the aged woman attempted to cross Del Paso boulevard, main thoroughfare of North Sacramento. Schroeder was questioned by officers and released.

3000 LOYALIST SOLDIERS SLAIN

ZARAGOZA, Spain, Jan. 18.—(UP)—At least 3000 Loyalist soldiers have been killed in a surprise assault on the city of Teruel, Nationalist general headquarters estimated today.

The new assault has been under way 24 hours and during that time the Nationalists have scored "brilliant successes", insurgent officers said.

Negroes Slain
Among those killed were said to be hundreds of Negroes and Senegalese soldiers.

More than 800 were said to have been taken prisoner, including a Loyalist colonel who attempted to commit suicide when his escape was cut off.

The offensive was a surprise for the defending Loyalists, according to the Nationalist officers, and they expressed confidence that it would result in ultimate capture of Teruel.

TVA Head Attacks Willkie Proposal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—(UP)—David E. Lilienthal, Tennessee Valley Authority director, today characterized as a "radical scheme" the proposal of Wendell L. Willkie, Commonwealth and Southern president, that TVA purchase all private utilities in the TVA area.

Lilienthal suggested that "sincere" negotiation between private utilities and TVA could evolve a workable compromise "without any such radical schemes as he has suggested."

The TVA executive declared that TVA and the municipalities to which it supplies power would be delighted to purchase actual operating utilities properties but not at "inflated prices."

Laguna Club to Hear Talk On World Affairs

LAGUNA BEACH, Jan. 18.—Mrs. F. L. Ransome, of Pasadena, will be guest speaker at next Tuesday's meeting of the Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's club at Bird's White House cafe.

Mrs. Ransome, keen student of world affairs, especially in their relationship to women's activities, will speak on "The Status of Women Here and Abroad." High light in the speech will be the recital of happenings at Geneva last September. Mrs. Ada E. Purpus, president of the club, has extended a special invitation to all women in Laguna Beach, whether affiliated with a woman's organization of any kind, or not.

Harry Overmyer, city engineer, was ordered to notify the operators of oil wells in the Main street area to install within 30 days an underground pipe line through which to discharge the waste water and to cease running water in open ditches after that time.

To Amend Ordinance
City Attorney Overacker was ordered to draw up an amendment to the building ordinance covering construction of oil derricks, so that all derricks must be built on concrete foundations.

The sum of $5000 was transferred from the general fund to the special building fund to take care of additional cost on the new beach pavilion now under construction.

P-T. A. TOLD OF JOB OFFICE

FULLERTON, Jan. 18.—Members of the El Dorado club, the Spanish organization of the Fullerton Union High school, presented the program at the meeting of the Fullerton Union High school and district Junior college P-T. A. last night at the school library. L. O. Culp, head of the commerce department, and placement officer, talked on his work.

Mr. Culp, who has been placement officer for 18 years, and has trained young people for the business field said that in that time he has placed 3500 students. All but 20 have succeeded in their places, he said.

Mrs. George Coltrin presided for Mrs. LeRoy Lyon, president, who is ill. Mrs. A. C. Terrill announced a shamrock tea to be sponsored March 17 at the California hotel, the one benefit of the council of P-T. A.

SIDE GLANCES By George Clark

"Oh, come in! I'm just listening to my favorite program. Ted's sitting out in the car listening to his."

TOWNSEND NEWS

Harry C. Westover, state senator from Orange county, will be the speaker at the regular meeting of Club No. 2 at Orange, Friday, January 21.

The Rev. Josiah Tucker delivered one of his masterful speeches to the Townsend club at West Riverside recently, and following the address a resolution was passed by a unanimous vote that the address of the evening be mailed to Harry Sheppard with the request that the same be placed in the congressional record.

E. A. Cox, formerly of Club No. 5 of Santa Ana, but for several months past a resident of Banning, was a caller at the Townsend headquarters last Saturday. Cox returned to Banning Sunday where he is employed on the Water Aqueduct project.

Judge M. C. Summers, who is booked to speak at Anaheim Townsend headquarters at 210 Clementine street tonight passed through Santa Ana last Saturday and dropped into the Townsend headquarters at 509 West 4th street for a visit with a number of his old Townsendite friends. He will be on the coast for a short time only, during which vacation he expects to rest up ready for a smashing campaign speaking tour.

Dewey Hubbard, former president of the Garden Grove Club No. 1 was a visitor at the Townsend headquarters in Santa Ana Saturday. He still is active in the Townsend movement. He was a visitor at the Garden Grove club meeting last Monday night.

A. K. Ashbaugh of Newport Beach has been delegated the job of rounding up a lot of latent Townsendites in Balboa with the expectations of reorganizing the Townsend club.

Lest we forget here is what Dr. Townsend said July 6, 1937: "We're not going to get the Townsend plan through the present congress because of the present and intended future opposition of the Roosevelt administration. I propose we elect a congress of men who are willing to enact the plan into law. "This does not mean, however, that we are going to lay down on the job, but we're going to continue to fight through this second session of the 75th congress."

J. I. Barber, formerly president of Townsend Club No. 12 of Santa Ana Gardens, announces that after a few weeks sleep of the club they have set the alarm clock to go off at 7:30 Tuesday night, January 18. Barber says there are a few people out in the wealthy territory of which Santa Ana Gardens is the metropolitan center directly in need of the $200 a month. Especially is this so just before the next notice comes out from the tax collector.

A letter from E. C. Collatz, secretary of the Townsend Club No. 1 at Elsinore announces that their club had a "great meeting" last Wednesday evening when Roy J. Webb from National headquarters at Chicago was the speaker of the evening, and "Boy did he lay the leather on Shappard." He also announced that many of those who wandered away from the fold in July are now returning to the loyal Townsend club at Elsinore and determined to go down the line with Dr. Townsend and the Townsend plan.

A communication from Mrs. Helen Worcester of Riverside, secretary of the Women's Auxiliary of Riverside county, announces that she has been in communication with Mrs. Mable Townsend of Elsinore, president of the Auxiliary of Riverside county and they have arranged a meeting of the Auxiliary for Thursday, February 3 at the home of Mrs. Worcester at 3551 Castle Reagh.

A letter from Mrs. Mabel Bartlett of Claimesa, informs us she has been ill at her home since the work of the big fair and bazaar that the women of San Bernardino County staged just before Christmas time. Mrs. Bartlett is president of the Women's Auxiliary of the County of San Bernardino.

Grandpa Manning of Costa Mesa, 93 years young, who is one of the most active workers in the Townsend movement in Orange county, has been on the sick list recently, but is reported some better at this time. "His services are missed in the movement in Costa Mesa, for notwithstanding his years he can get out and get more names on petitions and secure more new members than any one else on the mesa," officials said.

Dr. U. G. Littell who books the speakers for club No. 3 of Santa Ana, has called on the speakers bureau for one of the best speakers in Southern California for Thursday night at 7:30 at the Townsend Hall at 509 West 4th street. Watch for the announcement in The Register. However, you may rest assured that his order will be filled to suit his request.

STANTON

STANTON, Jan. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Fletcher have returned from a vacation trip to Sequoia.

Chat n' Chew club members were guests at a recent meeting at the home of Mrs. Roberta Parra.

The Sargasso Sea, the area of calm water surrounded by the swift Gulf Stream, and thickly blanketed with sea-weed, is nearly as large as the European continent.

MARTIN TO FACE SUPERIOR COURT

Virgil Martin, sailor in the United States Navy who was held at San Pedro, was held to answer late yesterday afternoon to superior court by Justice Kenneth Morrison on a charge of negligent homicide. Martin is charged with the traffic death of Mrs. Matilda Ford, 71, on New Year's Day. Information against Martin will be filed Friday, according to reports today. Martin assertedly was intoxicated when arrested on North Main street after an accident in which Mrs. Ford, a pedestrian, was fatally injured.

Autry To Shift Scene of Action To Africa Soon

Shifting his scenes of adventure to the jungle-blocked diamond belt of South Africa, Gene Autry rips through a thrill-packed story in his picture, "Round-Up Time in Texas," feature of the variety program at the State Friday and Saturday. From the round-up plains of Texas, Gene and Smiley Burnette take a shipment of horses to Dunbar in response to the request of Gene's brother, who has discovered a diamond mine. Arriving, the pair finds Gene's brother missing and accused of murder. The cowboys take the trail of revenge and justice, righting the wrong done the name of Autry. Musical moments enhance the production. The cast includes lovely Maxine Doyle, Buddy Wil-iams, Dick Wessel, The Cabin Kids and many others. Other programmed features include a comedy, "Mother Hen's Holiday," color cartoon; world news, and "Wild West Days," chapter 2.

C. J. 'Jack' Baer Joins Sales Force

Announcement was made today by L. D. Coffing company, Dodge and Plymouth dealers, 311 East 5th street, that they have acquired the services of C. J. "Jack" Baer, as a salesman in their Used Car Department. According to C. C. Griffin, used car manager for the Coffing company, Baer has been continuously associated in the sale of new and used cars in Santa Ana since 1924. His experience and wide acquaintance in Orange county are expected to be a distinct asset to the Coffing company's sales organization.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS, Jan. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. F. Dooling of El Centro, former residents, were recent Cypress visitors.

Husbands of club members will be guests of honor at the special meeting of the Community club scheduled for Wednesday evening at the La Rue hall. Following a covered-dish dinner, cards will provide entertainment. Mrs. W. C. Miller and Mrs. Katherine Arnold will be hostesses for the stated February meeting of the group.

Joe Ming, who has been in Switzerland for almost a year, has returned home.

Mrs. Hugh La Rue is recuperating from injuries received Christmas eve.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller were surprised recently by a group of self invited guests who brought a turkey dinner to the Miller home and remained for a social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Carston and family are moving to the Stodart property on Bishop avenue.

LOVE FROM A STRANGER

Jimmie Fidler
...in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 18. — The longer I stay in Hollywood, the more I am amazed that motion picture makers make money. Producers violate every rule of the violations, make millions. For instance, there is their playful little habit of changing the titles of their pictures.

Each major studio spends hundreds of thousands of dollars every year on publicity, the principal purpose of which is to "sell" the public in advance on a forthcoming production. When Sam Goldwyn decides to produce an epic called "Little Miss Muffet," he summons his publicity chiefs and tells them to make the public "Muffet" conscious. They carry out the order and flood the magazines and newspapers with copy. And then, just as public interest is mounting, Sam gets a brain storm and starts changing the title. After five or six changes—and as many expensive new advertising campaigns, the picture is finally released under the title of "The Spider's Thread." And a million dollars worth of publicity is wasted.

A current example in point is the new Sonja Henie picture. It went into production under the title, "Bread, Butter and Rhythm." That was changed to "Hoot and Happy," which in turn gave way to "Happy Ending." According to this morning's announcement, the picture will be released as "Happy Landings." It makes life tough for a movie columnist.

Cesar Romero had a cook whose kitchen artistry made him the envy of all his friends. Actors have been known to gain as much as five pounds via a single dinner in the Romero manse — and, in spite of that catastrophe, go away in a state of bliss. But, a month or so ago, Hilda informed Cesar that she was leaving — "a better job elsewhere," she said, turning a deaf ear to his entreaties and offers. And a few evenings later Sonja Henie invited Cesar to "drop in for dinner." He did — and with each successive, delicious course, settled deeper and deeper into gloom. "What's the matter with you?" Sonja demanded. "I have just one question to ask," said Cesar. "Is your cook named Hilda?" She was — and Cesar went home, recalling bitterly how the Henie, dining at his house, had praised the cooking, and reflecting upon the perfidy of women.

Never encounter Harry Grayson, Hollywood's promoter de luxe, without remembering one of the most hilarious chapters in Filmmaking history. On the strength of a poster-sized photo of an orang-utan and a wild story that an East Indian tribe used to apes as warriors, Harry induced "Uncle Carl" Laemmle to finance an expedition. Arrived in Batavia, he discovered that the only orang there was an ancient specimen in a government zoo — but that fact merely sharpened the Garson imagination. The daily rushes, shipped back to Hollywood for development, were "terrific." But finally Harry, who could not cut his film on location, made a slip. "Uncle Carl" was in the projection room, thrilling while an orang captured a native girl. Suddenly, the ape stood erect, hellowed "Cut!" — and out of the skin stepped Mr. Harry Garson. But here's the pay-off: The picture, re-shot in Hollywood, cost $350,000 — and earned nearly a million!

Arguments about Deanna Durbin's age have raged ever since her debut in "Three Smart Girls." The studio says — and offers to

COUNTY GROWERS AID U. S. BEAN DRIVECAMPAIGN AIMS TO MOVE HUGE CROP SURPLUS

With National Bean Week in full swing today throughout the nation — one of the most concentrated campaigns in history of the local and other state agricultural areas, designed to avoid a possible loss of approximately $750,000 — Orange county growers had joined in the effort to market an 80,000-bag surplus of beans in grocery stores all over the country.

Vernon C. Heil, prominent Smelter grower, who recently was named director of National Bean Week for Southern California, headed a large group of county agriculturists in the drive to make the American public "bean conscious."

Based on last year's figures, the bean crop of the county is estimated in dollars at $3,250,000. This is figuring at an average of $6.50 per bag. Heil today estimated the price per bag for the 1937 crop at "approximately $5," which would bring the value of the crop to $2,500,000.

"We are not hoping to make money on our bean crops this year," Heil said, "but if we can rid the country of the surplus as well as the normal consumption, we will be in a position to start the marketing of the 1938 crop with a clean slate."

Big Portion Here
"Lima beans represent one eighth of the entire bean crop of the nation and approximately one fourth of the lima beans are grown in Orange county. Realizing this, the necessity of a fair price for the beans to the growers is absolutely necessary."

"We have received splendid cooperation from the various marketing agencies in the country and hope that the general public will give us this same sort of cooperation," Heil concluded.

Police News

In line with a program to rid Orange of vagrants, Orange police arrested five men last night. Those arrested, all transients, included John Wright, 27; Norman Green, 21; Clarence Ellis, 20; George Smith, 58, and Clyde McVey.

Convicted on a reckless driving charge, Leslie Johnson, 18, Huntington Beach, was sentenced to county jail for a 121-2-day term. He was booked yesterday afternoon.

Convicted on a smuggling charge, according to officials, Antonio Gulo, 58, Los Angeles, gave himself up at county jail last night to begin serving a one-year term. A $1,000 fine also was assessed against him.

GETS CAB PERMIT
Theodore Baker, 24, Route 3, Santa Ana, was granted permission by city council last night to drive a taxicab for C. W. Williams.

Twenty-six per cent of all trucks in the United States are used by farmers.

ORANGE COUNTY MAN CHOSEN FOR TITLE ROLE IN OPERA

Signally honored is Orange county today in the selection of Stanley Kurtz, baritone, who is principal of El Modena Lincoln school, to play the title role in Verdi's "Rigoletto" to be presented at the Riverside Junior college auditorium Thursday, Saturday and Monday by the Riverside Opera association. The auditorium is located on Terracina Drive, near the Riverside High school buildings.

Has Title Role

Stanley Kurtz, above, well known concert soloist will play the leading role in Verdi's "Rigoletto," to be presented on three evenings at the Junior college auditorium at Riverside. Dates selected are Thursday, Saturday and Monday.

CHORUS WILL SING IN HOSPITAL TODAY

Another appearance of the Federal music project chorus at the Orange county hospital is scheduled for 6:30 p. m. today. The entire mixed chorus of 30 voices will present a highly selective program which will include two well loved favorites, "Love's Old Sweet Song," (Malloy), and "Juanita," from an arrangement by E. A. Jack.

"Hark, Apollo Strikes the Lyre," will open the concert followed by two sparkling numbers, "Dancing the Gay Gavotte" (Gluck), and "The Moon Goes Drifting By" (Grunn) performed by the women's chorus. The men's voices will be heard in Bullard's "Winter Song," and the concluding number on the program is announced as the impressive "Qui Tollis" from Farmer's Mass in B Minor.

The concert marks the fifth given by the well rounded singing organization for the entertainment of hospital patients. Dodey Page Harper will conduct, with Mrs. Mae Renfer playing the accompaniment.

Smoking pipes are made of special kinds of very tough and close-grained woods, which do not crack or burn easily.

MISS BUTLER IS ELECTED HEAD OF J. C. WOMEN

Second semester officers of the Associated Women Students at Santa Ana Junior college were named yesterday when elections were held for president, vice president and secretary-treasurer.

Josephine Butler, who was graduated from Santa Ana High school last year, was elected president over Nina June Robertson and La Vonne Franson. Marian Baxter was automatically declared vice president because she was unopposed.

Another Vote Wednesday
The position of secretary-treasurer will be voted upon Wednesday because of a tie vote between Bette Ann Munson and Peggy Paxton. The other secretarial candidate was Catherine Cooper.

The three new officers will hold office for the second semester. They replaced Anne Wetherell, president; Mary Henderson, vice president; and Dorothy Jenkins, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Eleanor Northcross, dean of women, acts as faculty adviser for the A.W.S.

Gonyea Recovers After Brush With Fumes of Death

W. J. Gonyea, 44, a steeple-jack painter who recently completed painting of the Orange county police radio aerial at Station KOBX, at the sheriff's office, was recovered today from injuries received Sunday when he was overcome by fumes from paint and fell almost to his death.

Firemen of two cities cooperated to effect Gonyea's rescue who was working in a water tank 100 feet high in Huntington Park.

Gonyea finally was lowered from the top of the tank in a rope chair to an 85-foot ladder. Called by a helper, Huntington Park firemen first attempted to rescue Gonyea but lacked sufficient ladder equipment. Los Angeles firemen then assisted. Gonyea will recover, attendants at Mission hospital said.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

NEWPORT HEIGHTS, Jan. 18. —Celebrating her birthday anniversary, Miss Mary Horner entertained a group of friends at dinner Sunday at the home of her parents. Informal entertainment and dancing followed.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Lamb (Virginia Sweetman) of Garden Grove, and Mr. and Mrs. George Cudworth (Doris Thompson), Miss Myrtle Dixon, Miss Agnes Moore, Eugene Elliott, Lyle Vander Walker and Joe McNeeley, of Los Angeles.

In addition to Senator Olson, J. Frank Burke, former Santa Ana newspaper publisher, will be on the program. Burke, who broadcasts twice daily, commenting upon topics of the day, will discuss the Democratic situation in California.

WIESSEMAN'S
MAIN AT FIFTH SANTA ANAHISTORY, LITERATURE, OTHER BOOKS GROW IN POPULARITY

While books of travel and biography still are the most popular works of non-fiction, they are closely pressed in public favor by the fields of history, literature, useful arts, fine arts and the social sciences, according to reports today from custodians of branch county libraries, who were in session with Mrs. Clara Louise Forman, acting county librarian.

Meeting to discuss reading trends and the tastes of library patrons, the custodians revealed that adults, rather than school children, are the most ardent readers of history; that James Truslow Adams, Charles A. Beard, Mark Sullivan, Will Durant and H. G. Wells are among the most popular authors.

Centers on Drama
Considerable interest in literature centered upon drama, humor and poetry. Fine arts books also were in demand, especially concerning subjects of gardening, photography, interior decorating, architecture, rug making, pottery, metalcraft, music, sketching and weaving. Interest in useful arts was directed to all types of engineering. Other topics followed include taxation, politics, economics, currency, cooperatives and constitutional reform.

Mrs. Forman's report of mid-yearly statistics showed that during the six months ending January 1 there was a combined circulation of 139,449 books and other materials at the various branch libraries; 126,694 books, 11,838 periodicals, 917 pamphlets, etc. Ocean View branch showed 85 per cent increase, Olive 69 per cent, Westminster 40 per cent, La Habra 24 per cent, Brea 12 per cent.

Custodians present were Miss Kathryn Burke, Brea; Mrs. Viola Parker, San Juan Capistrano; Miss Sarah Conant, Costa Mesa; Mrs. Ray King Cypress; Mrs. Blanche Wisner, Garden Grove; Mrs. Margery G. Casey, Laguna Beach; Miss Sophie Kruse, La Habra; Mrs. Anna Van Steenberg, Midway City; Mrs. Grace Green, Los Alamitos; Miss Geraldine Gardner, Ocean View; Mrs. Grace Sharpe, Olive; Mrs. Mary Neddermeyer, San Clemente; Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Seal Beach; Mrs. Hazel Gowdy, Tustin; Mrs. H. B. Anderson, Westminster. All expressed deep regret at resignation of Librarian Dorothy Wents.

W. C. T. U. TO MEET

GARDEN GROVE, Jan. 18.—The regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Edward Chaffee on Nutwood avenue.

The Rev. George L. Ford, pastor of the Free Methodist church, and Mrs. Florence Ames will have charge of the program.

6,900 PERSONS ARRESTED IN CITY LAST YEAR

More than 6900 persons were arrested during 1937, according to a report submitted to city council last night in a report prepared by Sergeant J. F. McWilliams, in Santa Ana, and $58,830 worth of loot was obtained.

However, the report shows that $41,637 worth of loot was recovered.

Covers Each Month
Among features of the comparative report, which covered each month, was the fact that the more than a score of charges ranged from assault with deadly weapons and assault and battery to issuance of fictitious checks, burglary, drunk driving and grand theft.

Charges of intoxication, the report revealed, were far in the lead of the number of charges, 84 such county having been filed in May, 82 in July, 72 in August and 79 in December.

Twenty petty theft arrests were made during the year; eight robbery; 106 vagrancy; 339 California vehicle code violations, and 2334 city traffic ordinance violations.

Band to Present Weekly Concert

The WPA Federal music project band unit, conducted by Dale Porter, again will be heard on its weekly open-air program at Birch Park at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

A program of popular and classical numbers has been selected for performance, as follows: "Amidst Thunder of Cannon" (Meincke); "Maritan" (Wallace); "Romance" (Bennett); "Jolly Fellows Waltz" (Vollstedt); "Serenade" (Herbert); "O Belle Nuit" (Tales of Hoffman by Offenbach); and "Tannhauser March" (Wagner).

Torosa Rebekah Lodge Officers Begin New Duties

First practice since they were installed last night in L. O. F. hall by new officers of Torosa Rebekah lodge, who will be instructed by Olive Patton of Fullerton, district deputy president, who conducted the induction rites.

New officers are Mary Ann Knox, noble grand, successor to Gladys McDonald; Minnie Squier, vice grand; Ada Spencer, recording secretary; Ethel Brown, treasurer; Leola Allen, financial secretary; Estelle Grey, musician; Fannie Lacy, chaplain; Bertie Launbach, warden; Gladys Pett, conductor; Mildred Adams, r. s. n. g.; Blanche Chandler, l. s. n. g.; Irene Lancaster, r. s. v. g.; Laura Tramel, inside guard; Martha Vandewalker, outside guard.

Two hundred and fifty members and guests, including a number of prominent L. O. F. and Rebekah officers, attended the recent installation. Preceding the event was dinner.

Irene Lancaster had decorated the hall in pink, green and white for the ceremony. French heathery plants marked the places of the noble and vice grand. Mrs. Patton wore gold satin, and her marshal, Edna Grunwald, also of Fullerton, was in blue satin. They were escorted by ten guides, each wearing wood brown moire with French bouquets. Other members of the staff were in white lace gowns.

Mrs. Lancaster presented Gladys McDonald with a past noble grand's pin as a gift of the lodge. The retiring noble grand received a wool blanket from her staff, with Mrs. Minnie Squier making the presentation. Mrs. McDonald remembered each of her staff with a hand-embroidered tea towel. Mrs. Knox gave each member of her staff, and other workers a gift.

There were talks by Mrs. Patton and other visitors.

Southland Groups Are Entertained at Luncheon in This City

Noble Prophetesses' association of Southern California extended a delightful courtesy to Shrine worthy high priestesses of the Southland Saturday when luncheon was held at Danigers. In charge of arrangements for the affair were Mrs. Florence Wright of this city, Mrs. Dorothy French of Pomona and Mrs. Dorothy Ross of Fullerton.

Blossoms in the most delicate of pastel tints formed a centerpiece on the long table, which was lighted by tapers. Yellow and white was the prevailing motif. Cards were played during the afternoon. Prizes went to Bessie Starley, Gertrude Baker, Frances Herelene and Pearl Hyde.

Present were Helen Miller, Anna May Irwin, Vivian Lang and Ann Thomas, Long Beach; Gertrude Baker, Rosebelle Riner, Glendale; Frances Herelene, Edna May, Redondo; Jennie Jones, Blanche Laucks, Whittier; Hazel Smalley, Dorothy Ross, Fullerton; Stella Ford, Maggie Sauer, San Bernardino; Lottie Sherrard, Jessie Weeks, Huntington Park; Elsie Smith, Dorothy French, Pomona; Pearl Hyde, Florence Wright, Santa Ana; with Bessie Starley of Fullerton, Noble Prophetesses' association's sponsor.

Party Guests Present Array of Gifts to Young Matron

Entertaining late the past week in her home, 1213 South Van Ness avenue, Miss Estelle Schlesinger gave emphasis to pink and blue in her decorative plans, as a compliment to her honor guest, Mrs. Bert Hoffman.

The colors appeared on tally cards distributed for bridge play as well as in subsequent features of the evening. In this interval Mrs. Bert Banks scored high, with the honoree, Mrs. Hoffman winning second prize, and Mrs. Perry Davis consoling. Mrs. F. D. Hopke took the prize in a game arranged for those who did not play bridge.

When pretty linens were used in replacing card table covers, each of the four small tables was centered with a little umbrella in pink or blue, to suggest the showery nature of the evening. For after guests had enjoyed the pink ice cream served with little cakes in pink and blue design, they formed a circle around Mrs. Hoffman while she opened the gift packages.

These had been placed in a dainty basket, the gift of her hostess, Miss Schlesinger, and offered a number of pretty and useful articles to add to her ladyship's collection. Among the gifts by Miss Schlesinger's guests, Mesdames Ben Sargent, Burley Durbin, Bert Banks, Walter Markel, Albert Markel, Arthur Wakefield, Perry Davis, Lawrence Haupt, Walter Stark, F. D. Hopke, the Misses Jean Gaspar, Nellie Colombini, Geraldine Haupt and Bernice Borchard.

Mixing Bowl BY ANN MEREDITH

Whenever you run across a bargain in stewing hens, buy a medium sized bird and make it into a fricassee with oysters... oysters and chicken are "that way" about each other, in case you are skeptical.

Chicken-Oyster Fricassee with Green Rice Border

- 1 four-pound stewing hen simmered in 2 quarts of water
- 2 quarts water with 1 big onion, chopped
- 6 cloves, heads nipped out
- 1 bay leaf
- Dash of thyme (powdered)
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 1 pint small oysters, well washed
- 1 cup cream (thin) beaten with 2 eggs
- Flour smoothed in water to thicken gravy.

- 2 heaping cups rice, washed before boiling in 2 quarts of water
- 1-2 green pepper, finely chopped
- 1 bunch parsley, clipped fine
- 1-2 cup melted butter.

After cooking the hen until the meat is ready to fall apart, take it up and strain the broth. Do not dice meat, leave it in big pieces. Heat a quart of broth, scald the oysters in broth, skim them out, thicken with flour, then add the cream and eggs. And a piece of butter if you like it richer. When the sauce is thick, put in oysters and chicken and keep hot over war.

Boil rice rapidly in salted water (open kettle). When done, drain and rinse under hot water until the loose starch runs away. Have the butter, pepper and parsley hot in a saucepan. Add rice, stir well and season. Pile it in a ring around platter, the fricassee filling the center. The recipe serves eight.

We invite you to exchange one of your good recipes and a stamped envelope for our fine Calory List. Write for it, today.

A small salmon or a nice piece of halibut would be ideally suited for cooking with this superb "sum"-shus sauce. Clip and save it for the spoils your husband will bring home (or buy) from a fishing trip.

A Rich Fish Sauce

- 1 pint white wine
- 1 pint oil
- 1 cup water
- 6 onions, sliced
- 6 tomatoes, sliced, or 1 cup canned tomato
- 2 bay leaves
- 10 whole black peppers
- 5 whole cloves, heads nipped out
- 1 teaspoon salt.

Put all ingredients, cold, into a kettle, bring slowly to a boil and keep there for 15 minutes. Strain through a fine sieve and return to a wide bottomed kettle. Lay the fish in the sauce and simmer, spooning sauce over fish as it cooks. Line a hot platter with strips of thin buttered toast, place fish on toast. To the sauce in kettle add 1 can giant shrimp, cleaned and dried, and 1 cup flaked crab meat. Bring to the boiling point, stir in a beaten egg and pour over the fish.

- Brown Health Bread
- 3 cups graham flour
 - 1 heaping cup cooking bran
 - 1 cup grape nuts
 - 1 cup white flour sifted with 1 scant teaspoon baking powder and
 - 2 teaspoons salt
 - 2-3 cup melted vegetable fat or butter
 - 1 cup dark cooking molasses
 - 3-4 cup sour milk mixed with 1 teaspoon soda
 - 1 cup raisins

Ninety Years Young, and Entertaining At Parties

BY VIRGINIA FRITCHER

"Ninety years seem very short when they are in retrospect instead of in prospect," today laughed Mrs. Mary Flanagan as she busied herself with last minute preparations for a luncheon and bridge event at which she is entertaining this afternoon.

Today's party was just one of the many affairs in which this remarkably keen and alert woman is taking part as she joins with relatives and friends in celebrating her 90th birthday anniversary, an event of tomorrow. This will be her second gala birthday observance in Santa Ana, where she has made her home with her son, B. W. Flanagan since coming here two years ago from Omaha, Neb.

Friendly Group
The Flanagan home at 921 Lacy street was setting for this afternoon's hospitality. Guests were Mesdames E. B. Collier, Nannie Lester, William Castler, O'Keefe, George Young, Kirby Ferguson, F. J. Flanagan, E. L. Flanagan, Antonio Borchard, Charles Borchard and Miss Dora Kolby; with the hostess' daughter, Miss Ann Flanagan, and granddaughter, Miss Hazel Coleman, who assisted throughout the afternoon.

Decorations were in the celebrant's favorite yellow, the same sunny motif which prevailed in appointments for a Sunday afternoon tea at which she entertained at the Lacy street address. For this event, the hostess was charming in a plum-colored crepe frock. Twenty-four relatives and friends were received. Assisting were Miss Ann Flanagan of the home, Mrs. F. J. Flanagan and Mrs. E. L. Flanagan.

Initial Event
Coming as the first of a series of parties for Mrs. Flanagan was the family affair Saturday night in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Flanagan, 1325 West First street. Poinsettias and other vivid-hued blossoms were used in decorating.

The happy birthday celebrant enters into all these party plans with the zest of a young girl. She likes to play cards and share the sociability of good friends just as well as do her daughters-in-law and the other members of the family. She devotes much of her time to crocheting and sewing, enjoying the blessing of good eyesight, not wearing glasses of any kind.

Born January 19, 1848 in Joliet, Ill., Mrs. Flanagan moved to Nebraska when she was but a child, and has spent more than 82 years of her life in that community. Although she still calls Omaha her home, she and her relatives and friends hope that she will remain in Sunny California for the autumn of her long and useful life. She has a daughter, Miss Ann Flanagan, came here together two years ago. Other members of her immediate family include sons, E. L., B. W. and F. J. Flanagan, of Santa Ana; daughters and sons, Mrs. P. J. McDonald of Gretna, Neb.; Mrs. T. W. Coleman, Lehigh, Neb.; Mrs. Thomas E. Rockford, Colon, Neb.; and A. H. Flanagan of Gretna. The latter's six-year-old son, Bernard Flanagan makes his home in this city with his grandmother.

Other Parties
Parties planned to honor Mrs. Flanagan include a two-table bridge affair at which Mrs. Kirby Ferguson will be hostess Wednesday evening in her home, 634 North Parton street.

Thursday will bring a luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. L. Flanagan on Cypress avenue, with her mother, Mrs. Charles Kogler of New York City, as hostess.

A. W. S. ELECTION

To compete for the presidency of Junior college Associated Women Students in final election which will be held Wednesday are the Misses LaVonne Frandson and Josephine Butler. These two girls were victorious in primary elections.

Coads whose names will be on the ballot for the office of secretary-treasurer are the Misses Peggy Faxon and Bette Ann Munson. Myrta Baxter is the only nominee for the vice-presidency.

W. C. T. U.

With Mrs. Effie Means presiding, Santa Ana W. C. T. U. met this past week in the Congressional bungalow for a program devoted to the theme, "International Relations for Peace."

After a devotional service led by the Rev. Alice Parham, co-pastor of Four Square Gospel church, Mrs. Carrie Watson introduced the program features by presenting as speaker, Mrs. R. W. Jones of El Modena. As state director of this department, Mrs. Jones has in her information all assembled in readiness to give a very stirring and informative talk.

This was followed by various items from the Bulletin, read by Mrs. Iva M. Webber, and by a talk on the evangelistic department by Mrs. Mollie Vance, director of that department in the Union.

Members are anticipating with much interest their meeting of Tuesday afternoon, February 8, when the annual Frances Willard Memorial meeting will be held according to many years' custom, with Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger, 207 East Ninth street.

1-2 cup unchopped walnut meats — a tested recipe. Mix all dry ingredients in one bowl, the raisins and walnut mixed through flour. Put all wet ingredients into another bowl, whip liquids out and stir in the mixed flours. Divide the dough between two small oiled bread tins and bake from 45 to 60 minutes in a medium oven.

Assistance League's Charities Are Reviewed at Meeting

Letters expressing the appreciation of those who have benefited by the generosity of Assistance League of Santa Ana were read, and gratifying reports were given yesterday afternoon at the organization's meeting in the home of Mrs. Edward M. Hall, 1901 Heliotrope Drive.

There was very little business to consider, so the reports on charities were of paramount interest. Mrs. Wilbur Barr, recently appointed recording secretary to assist Mrs. R. C. Hollis, corresponding secretary, gave a report, as did Mrs. Howard Timmons, treasurer.

Mrs. Hall and her co-hostess, Mrs. Z. B. West, had arranged a charming setting for the serving of buffet luncheon to precede other events of the afternoon. Pink and white sweet peas were on the long dining table, while similar bouquets in silver containers centered small tables at which guests were seated. The same color scheme was carried out through the use of stocks in the living room.

Bridge was played during the afternoon. The next meeting will be held Monday afternoon, February 7 in the home of Mrs. L. D. Coffing, 2437 North Park Boulevard. Mrs. Herbert Miller will be co-hostess.

Former Santa Anan is Hostess at Luncheon

Mrs. Walter Blair of Corona welcomed a number of Santa Ana friends to her home Saturday when she entertained at luncheon and bridge. The hostess is the former Miss Marjorie Lauderbach, daughter of the Leon Lauderbach of this city.

Because the season is at its height at Santa Ana, the hostess observed a race-track motif in tallies and in decorations. Flowers were in vivid tones to suggest the color flower borders at the popular winter racing ground.

Mrs. Mary Tuthill and Miss Martha Tuthill won prizes for their bridge scores. Others present were the Misses Ruth Warner, Alberta Greene, Florence Messamer, Marian Hawk and Barbara Crawford, all of this community with Mrs. Blair.

MRS. SPRAGUE'S CLUB

Three guests, Mrs. Frank Henderson, Mrs. R. P. Yeagle and Mrs. Charles Druitt, shared a sewing club party with a large group of members Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. B. Sprague, 1920 Victoria Drive.

Iceland poppies and sweet peas brightened the home for the occasion. During the refreshment interval, sweet peas and roses centered tables.

Members sharing the hospitality of Mrs. Sprague were Mesdames O. H. Barr, F. W. Wieseman, O. H. Halsell, J. H. Metzgar, O. K. Forgy, Ale Brownridge, H. B. Heil, Harry Spencer, C. F. Skirvin, W. B. Williams and L. A. West.

Lady Precious Stream Will Draw Crowd from Santa Ana

Many Santa Anans will be numbered among those attracted to Bridges auditorium on the Pomona College campus at Claremont, for tonight's presentation of "Lady Precious Stream," the Chinese play which has attracted so much general interest.

Among those planning to be in attendance are Col. and Mrs. M. Burr Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Crosier Phillips, Mrs. Robert Northcross, Miss Agnes Todd Miller and Robert Northcross Jr., and there will be a large delegation from Santa Ana Junior college.

Among the students will be a group from Tavern Tattlers, whose faculty adviser, Thomas H. Glenn, made arrangements for attendance, and will accompany the young people. Included among them are Will Rudd, Herschel Albrecht, Carroll Richardson, Stanley Slaback, Bob Gilman, Horace Evans, Chester Walford, Alberta Metzgar, Margaret Clinton, Eleanor Brady, Betty Jane Moore, Phyllis Kogler, Jean Mulbar, Marjorie Vollmer, Katherine Cooper, Ruth Bush, Mrs. Constantine, June Holman, Barbara Knuth, Alton Miller, Eileen Reid, Elizabeth Robinson and Frederick Stearns.

Fashion Forum Planned for Woman Shoppers

With down-town windows already blossoming like spring gardens with their advance modes of the season and Santa Ana women becoming definitely spring style conscious, the Rankin Drygoods store has seized the psychological moment for introducing Pictorial Review's "Fashion Forum" tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the yardage section of the store.

Graceful girls will model the newest style creations, and patrons of the store will be given a glimpse of modes, line and colors that are all fresh and new, and will represent the very latest of creations just completed in New York City. Miss Elaine LeMar, style and beauty consultant of the Pictorial Review Guild, will be present to conduct this revue, and to advise with women in their spring wardrobe plans.

Those asking originality coupled with modishness, will find able assistance in Miss LeMar, who with the aid of the group of mannequins, will illustrate various points of style lines, especially as applied to individual problems of coloring, height and weight. She will dwell on the importance of design, fabric, line, and especially color.

There are advancing colors and retiring colors," declared Miss LeMar. "The varying tones may be cheerful or sombre; gay or dignified; stimulating or soothing. A woman may make herself quiet or exciting; restful or stimulating. In fact her personality may be expressed to the fullest extent with proper manipulation of color."

Relatives From Idaho Honored at Dinner at Whie Gables

"White Gables," the hospitable William C. Watkins home, 1502 North Ross street, was scene of a dinner party of much interest late the past week when several of Mrs. Watkins' relatives, now visiting in the Southland from Shelley, Idaho, were complimented.

Flowers, which are always of special interest at the home, were unusually lovely, especially the roses and gerberas, while in the background flamed great baskets of poinsettias.

Samuel Dial, the special guest of honor, is a cousin of Mrs. Watkins. With him on the Southland visit are his two sons and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Dial and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dial and baby son, Terry, and his three daughters, Mrs. Robert Martin and the Misses Jennie and Ennis Dial, all of Shelley, and sharing guest honors.

Completing the pleasant family reunion were Mrs. Watkins' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Teague of Long Beach, and a group of nephews and nieces of the home, with their respective families. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riesland and Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Gulley and daughter, Marjorie Aceline, Los Angeles; Mrs. Mollie Terrell, Mrs. W. O. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Gulley and children, Billie and Beverly Jane, Santa Ana. Two close family friends joined the party, Mrs. Julia Wells of Royallton, Ill. and Al Nelson of Los Angeles.

Eighty-Fifth Birthday Given Celebration

Eighty-five years old Saturday, C. U. Christensen's birthday was given a merry celebration for which relatives assembled Sunday evening in his home, 715 South Main street.

Birthday cake and hot chocolate were served at the close of an informal evening. There were flowers and other gifts for the celebrant, who has lived at the South Main street address since coming here from Minnesota 19 years ago. A native of Denmark, he arrived in the United States when he was 19 years of age.

Extending congratulations to him were Mr. and Mrs. George Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Christensen and daughter, Shirley, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hardcastle, Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vlaschaert and daughter of Costa Mesa; Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Christensen, Tustin; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reafender and daughter, Donna, Garden Grove; Mrs. Rolfe Parker, Anaheim.

Surprise Housewarming Planned by Friends

Affording their unexpected guests full opportunity to inspect the new charms and conveniences of their new home at 1122 South Birch street, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meyers were gracious hosts Saturday night when taken by surprise by a group of friends who had planned a housewarming.

Cards were played informally after everyone had looked over the home, and the evening ended with the serving of refreshments planned by the guests. They had planned another surprise feature as well, the housewarming gift of a handsome electric waffle iron for Mr. and Mrs. Meyers.

Several Minnesota visitors in Santa Ana were included in the group, Mrs. Ladwig, Mr. and Mrs. W. Koelle, John Helberg and Mrs. Twisselman while Santa Ana guests were Messrs. and Mesdames J. S. Nagle, Will Reuter, Bill Reuter Jr., A. E. Fowler, A. G. Helberg, Ben Sievers, with Harry Olson and his daughter, Miss Helen Olson.

Sunday Night Supper Given in Wheeler Home

Sunday night supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wheeler, 305 South Sycamore street, came in compliment to the host's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wheeler.

Presentation of layette gifts to the honored pair came as a feature of the early evening. Supper was served at tables appointed with nuptials of appropriate design. Assisting the hostess was her mother, Mrs. Clara Brucke.

Michigan was played, with first prize going to Mr. and Mrs. Miner Whitford. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wheeler and their little son, Jimmie; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Whitford, Mr. and Mrs. John Kress and son, Stanley, Mrs. Brucke and the George Wheelers and their son, Frank.

Holiday Honeymooners to Establish Home in Texas

Concluding their holiday honeymoon trip back to Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Trickey, wedded here on December 20, have returned as far westward as Houston, Texas, where they will make their home.

Mrs. Trickey was Miss Florence Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Moore, 1214 Lacy street. At the time of the wedding, the Moores had been visiting Mrs. Moore's father, H. M. Vaughn, and other relatives in Clinton, Ky., since early October. The newly-wedded pair left after their marriage, for a motor trip back to Clinton where they completed the family circle gathered for the Christmas celebration.

The Monday after Christmas they left for Houston, reaching there in time to be New Years guests of Mrs. Trickey's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Clayton. Mr. Trickey is to be located in Houston where he is affiliated with the Seaboard Life Insurance company. The young people have now taken possession of a pretty new home at 5010 Delano street in the Texas city.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Moore have just returned to their Santa Ana home, after a three months' absence in the east with the hope of benefiting Mr. Moore's health.

Kappa Delta Alumnae Hear Book Review

Biographies, romances and "best sellers" in both fiction and non-fiction were summarized swiftly and competently Saturday afternoon for Orange county Kappa Delta Alumnae Saturday afternoon when, meeting with Mrs. Willard Bassett, 907 North Olive street, they had Mrs. D. C. Cruickshank of Fullerton, as guest speaker.

Members turned from consideration of literary matters to the bridge games arranged as the late afternoon diversion, and in which prizes for high score went to Mrs. Albert Williams. To conclude her hospitality, Mrs. Bassett used the card tables for serving refreshments, employing pottery in bright colors to add interest to the interval.

Present with the guest speaker, Mrs. Cruickshank, were Mrs. Williams, also of Fullerton; Miss Margaret Smith, Claremont; Mrs. J. B. Rothaemel, Rivera; Mrs. Elmer Guy, Mrs. B. W. Goodwin, Miss Marne Culp, Brea, and Mrs. E. R. Broders, Whittier, with Mrs. Bassett completing the group.

SEA MEETING

S.E.A. club members went to Anaheim for their January party, with Mrs. L. C. Herron receiving the group last week in her home. Co-hostesses were Mesdames Loren Faust, Harold Hilgers, I. Hart and G. W. Serr, all of Anaheim.

Others in the group were Mesdames E. A. B. Smith, H. T. Menary, C. R. Sackerson, P. G. Kilburn, A. B. Stokes and Carl Nelson, Santa Ana; O. K. Sutcliffe, La Habra; H. C. Oliver, Fullerton and K. H. Stewart, Costa Mesa.

Dessert was served and cards were played. Winners were Mrs. Faust, Mrs. Sutcliffe and Mrs. Serr, who held the two high and low scores, while Mrs. Kilburn won travel awards.

The next meeting will be held February 9 in the Fullerton home of Mrs. Oliver, with Mrs. Sutcliffe as co-hostess.

OUTRAGED LOYALTY

There was a scuffle and some smothered noises on the line forming to march upstairs, and Miss Louise, teacher of the first-graders turned to see what could be the matter. She was just in time to see Randolph push back four of five boys and edge in ahead of them.

"Randolph!" said she sternly "Step out of line. Walk with me." In silence the class, headed by Miss Louise and the abashed Randolph, mounted up the stairs to the classroom. Coats and hats were hung up, desks arranged, everything set for the afternoon session. Then Miss Louise asked, "Randolph, why were you so rude on line?" No answer from the culprit.

"He can't seem to speak for himself," said Miss Louise, thoughtfully gazing about the room. "Has he any friend to speak for him?"

Not a sign from the merciful group, strong in their righteousness. This goat must go to the left side of the throne. Hadn't he offended deity?

"There doesn't seem to be a friend to speak a word for you, Randolph. You see nobody loves a person who is selfish and rough."

The sinner looked up. He straightened his back, looked the class over and said firmly, "Yes, Alldyce is my friend."

"Alldyce, will you speak like a friend for Randolph?"

"No, I'm not his friend. He was bad."

Randolph was taken aback for a breathless instant, then he flared, "When I get out this afternoon I'll sock you," said he.

"That is too bad," said Miss Louise. "First you are rude to your classmates, selfish, take their places and then you threaten to sock your best friend. You must think things over, that's all."

That afternoon Randolph had to stay in and be persuaded that taking other boys' places by force of weight and will was not being good. "I shouldn't have shoved them. But I'll sock Alldyce, just the same."

Alldyce had run all the way home with the news that Randolph had threatened to sock him.

"O, no, he is your friend. He would never do anything like that. We'll go right over and see him and fix things up," said his mother.

Randolph had arrived when the delegation of peacemakers reached his home. His mother listened in astonishment to what the enemy's mother had to tell. "So of course, Randolph will make up and be friends," she concluded.

"No," said Randolph, "I'm not his friend. He wouldn't speak for me. I said I'd sock him and I will when I get him." Nor would he be moved from that position. He had cycled on his friend in time of need and he had refused to rise and answer to the call of friendship. A sock was his only solution. He cooled off, influenced by father and mother, and withheld the sock, but the friendship was ended.

Delmar Watson comes into his own as one of Hollywood's important child stars with a leading role in "Headline Huntress." He is the most promising member of one of our most interesting families. There are nine Watson children, ranging all the way from a toddler to a high school football player, and every last one of them is a veteran actor. This morning on the set, I had a chat with Delmar's mother. "Just have been a job-training line of them," she replied. "And most of the money we were fighting a shortage of money. There is one period at which we always refer to as 'The Great Depression.' Five of them me down with the mumps—one father and—married a screen star and froze to death."

I don't believe a word of it—it is Lyle Talbot likes to tell about retired Adair explorer who came to Southern California to end his life among the orange groves. According to Lyle he met a face—married a screen star and froze to death."

VETERAN IS ILL

Mrs. Leona Talbot, 319 West 3rd street, has returned from several days with former son Anans, Mr. and Mrs. Ben over, Mr. Glover, 81-year-old war veteran who is a member of the local Sedgwick post G. EVEN THE KIDS
Saw the Difference
The kids used to think they had a grouchy dad until he got all the bills he was worrying about into one obligation... at the Community Finance Co.

The transaction was simple, the loan was granted without delay, the bills were all paid, the payments easy, and dad was able to make his check cover all his expenses, and leave a little to pay by check about our 4-fold Finance Plan.

ROUND-ONE ITALY

In the battle of words in which Kid Britain has challenged Big Boy Mussolini for the radio championship of the Near East, round one seems to have gone to the Big Boy.

Reporters in Palestine indicate that Arab listeners tuned in the first British broadcast, but tuned it out again when it proved to be a mixture of Arabic, English, and violin solos in the classical mode. The listeners switched back to Mussolini's all-Arabic program, which featured the voice of Abdul Wahab, the favorite crooner of the Near East.

Probably the British are waiting for television, so they can sign up Fatima, that weird Oriental dancer, whose gyrations can perhaps win over the errant Arabs from the spell of Abdul.

ANTI "SINGLE TAX" DRIVE

Attempts to qualify a "Single Tax" initiative for the November ballot disguised as a Sales Tax Repeal Act, will be vigorously opposed by the California Association Against "Single Tax."

President Donzel Stoney of the association says: "The proposal which 'Single Tax' zealots are trying to foist on California voters at the forthcoming general election, is, with slight variations, the same discredited scheme which was barred from the ballot a year ago by action of the supreme court."

The "Single Tax" proposal, if it became law, would more than double tax bills of farmers, home-owners, business men and other common property taxpayers and would boost rentals to exorbitant levels.

If this discredited measure, were given voter approval, California state finance would be plunged into chaos. We would have wholesale tax delinquencies and bankruptcies which would mean personal tragedy for thousands of citizens and serious impairment of our state credit.

No stone should be left unturned to unmask this deceptive proposal and prevent voters from being imposed upon.

HELP FIGHT INFANTILE PARALYSIS

The grim terror—Infantile Paralysis—every year, in some town, some county, some state, produces fear, panic, death and human wreckage.

The new national foundation for Infantile Paralysis will deal swiftly and scientifically with this grim terror.

Throughout the United States there are 72 orthopedic hospitals and homes. There are 158 general hospitals with orthopedic departments.

These orthopedic centers need the immediate help of concentrated dollars for the application of practical, specific programs.

Thus it is that next week all sections of the country will set about creating facilities which can restore, educate and train those who must start their lives anew under handicaps acquired through no fault of their own—through infantile paralysis.

Orange county has been called upon to do her part. We can do our part by participating in plans for raising funds.

Orange county will raise its funds at a popular ball to be held at the Valencia Ballroom on 101 highway on the night of January 27.

You can aid in this national campaign by purchasing tickets to this ball, whether you attend or not.

Help yourself and your fellow man to health and happiness.

THE TAXES WITHOUT A FRIEND

The regular session of congress faces precisely the same problem that confronted the special session when it met in November. That problem is, how can the business recession be stopped?

The special session reached a new high in non-achievement. There was a great deal of talk concerning ways and means to reassure business—and almost no action. If a similar stalemate is reached in the present session, the outlook for the future of the country will be serious indeed.

The greatest need of the time is actual co-operation by government and industry, which is the sole source of productive employment, investment, spending power and taxation. The first step congress should take, if it is honestly interested in real national recovery, is to revise those two "taxes without a friend" which have done so much to kill business and investment—the undistributed profits tax and the capital gains tax.

Neither of these taxes is an important revenue producer. They actually tend to reduce tax revenues, because of their depressive effect on industrial activity. There is a remarkable unanimity of opinion among informed persons as to their dangers. Business men, large and small, are solidly opposed to them. Outstanding economists can find nothing to say in their favor. The nation's principal newspapers, of all political affiliations, are requesting that they be drastically changed. And a large number of public officials, of both parties, have gone on record in favor of revision or outright repeal.

Let's encourage a revival of business activity that will block the growing "recession," by assuaging the fears of industry and investors as to political and tax persecution.

"What! Married?" said a man to a no-good drunken friend. "Don't make me laugh, stupid. How did you ever get a wife?" "I just sobered up and there she was," was the answer.—The Laughter Library.

Sharing the Comforts Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

NEWSPAPER AT DISADVANTAGE IN CONTROVERSY

Those reformers and meddlers who claim to be great humanists and devoting their life and energy to the welfare of humanity and really have no sincere plan but can only tear down, are the people who have spread the erroneous idea that a newspaper has an advantage in any controversy as to whether their theories are beneficial to society or not.

This belief is farthest from the truth. The fact of the matter is that a newspaper can destroy itself by adopting one single, serious principle that is unsound.

To the degree that a newspaper sponsors sound principles which will work to the betterment of mankind in the long run, will that newspaper succeed.

We are not, of course, assuming that newspapers never adopt unsound policies and survive but they cannot adopt any major, unsound policy and survive. They can make many, many mistakes and still prosper.

At a Real Disadvantage

So, any newspaper that takes exceptions to people posing as devoting their lives to the interest of mankind in general is at a great disadvantage from a financial standpoint. The newspaper, it might be said, has a bond up to the extent of the value of its property. For this reason, it dare not advocate unsound principles. It dare not criticize any man who is advocating sound principles, because to criticize sound principles is to advocate unsound principles.

When any dreamer, painter of wish pictures or public educator or official contends that he dare not get into a newspaper discussion on fundamental principles which have a great bearing on the general welfare of humanity, you can safely conclude that this man is advocating unsound principles and using this scheme either to satisfy his vanity or to soothe him in the embarrassment of anyone publicly challenging his leadership.

They so strongly believe in the infallibility of their leadership that they actually believe that a newspaper does have an advantage over them, even if the newspaper—if it errs in judgment—is paying all of the expense and has the disadvantage in most cases of being what is known as a "Modern Macaulay."

Any man really seeking the truth and trying to benefit humanity, is always only too glad to explain his principles and get the greatest possible audience for them. If, however, their ideas and their leadership will not stand the scrutiny of analysis and questioning, then they are false leaders; then they are demagogues; then they are selfish and are not working for the general welfare.

"MAJORITY MANDATE"

Dorothy Thompson in explaining why she would like to go to Jersey City to deliver an address, points out some very fundamental principles connected with true democracy.

She explains that in Jersey City she would be obliged to get a permit from Mayor Hague before she could deliver an address on the streets or distribute bills; that Mayor Hague who is in control, is violating the fundamental principles of the Constitution in his attempt to prevent the C.I.O. from entering Jersey City.

She would like to talk on the protection of minorities. She says, "I have never fallen for this idea of 'majority mandate' or 'unchecked majority rule' when it emanates from the lips of Mr. Roosevelt or the New Deal administration. I have protested that neither the Constitution of the United States nor the interpretation of that Constitution contained in the basic document of American political philosophy, 'The Federalist,' so presents American democracy. The very essence of American democracy is the protection of certain basic rights of individuals, groups and minorities against a majority of even 99 per cent."

This certainly is the crux of true democracy and to believe that the voting majority has a right to infringe on these inalienable rights, is the very antithesis of true democracy. It can lead only to more and more unemployment and more and more misery.

The pity is that our public schools are teaching, or indoctrinating the idea that democracy means majority rule on all questions. In so doing, the schools are doing an incalculable amount of damage to society, when the purpose of the schools is to benefit society.

RESPONSIBILITY WITHOUT FREEDOM OF ACTION

We have heard a great deal about power and rights without responsibility. We seem to overlook the truism that on the other hand we cannot hold people responsible for results without giving them the right to use their judgment in attempting to get results.

This is exactly what has happened in our business structure. We are attempting to hold the entrepreneurs responsible for adding to the general welfare. Yet the voting majority, through their government, has so encroached on the right of the individual to use his best judgment in bringing about desired conditions that he is practically helpless. The result is ten million people out of work. We have limited his freedom of action in many ways. The most serious of these limitations is the limiting of his growth by a confiscatory tax on growth and limiting him in the right to select his help that he believes recognizes that the customer must be served.

Another responsibility of which we have deprived the entrepreneur is a method of measuring values. The government has so failed in its police duty to guarantee the purity, the soundness, of money that the entrepreneur has no way of measuring values over a long period of time.

The government has failed in its responsibility but still is expecting the entrepreneur to function as he did before the government took these rights from him. It never has worked and it is foolish to imagine that it will work.

Freedom of action goes with responsibility as well as responsibility with rights.

Business Conference

General Hugh S. JOHNSON Says

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Who stopped buying the automobiles that were selling so merrily in the first half of 1936 and thus making much of the business spurt in that period? Were those people the tail that wagged the dog? If they were, the measurements got mixed. They were not the 4-inch tail of the 100-inch dog. In the early part of the year, there appeared the most uniform, as well as the strongest, market since 1928 and it stopped suddenly in all parts of the country at about the same time.

The slump in employment appeared first in the needle trades. Who stopped buying garments suddenly—only a mere handful of economic royalists? They don't wear many more clothes than the "rest of the folks" and the needle trades depend on the patronage of everybody. Some Administration authorities are taking big business to task for not having confidence and investing their money or buying to take up the slack due to a slowing up of government spending. Mr. Wallace wants to know why business men can't separate the long time "future of their industry from the joy or gloom of the immediate short time pessimism. . . . During periods of pessimism they make no provision for future plants and often do not replace depreciation."

How can they do that? Under the undistributed profits tax they can't have reserves. Depreciation is a reserve—a book figure so far as cash is concerned. Mr. Oliphant thinks that, although they must distribute all their earnings, they don't need reserves because they can go out into the investment market and sell new securities. But, under New Deal policies, there has been practically no investment market for new securities. And who would buy new securities in a slump? Who sold old securities to produce the stock market crash? And who is it that doesn't come back to buy securities either old or new today? Answer—the same people who stopped buying automobiles and garments—not the 4-inch tail—but everybody.

It is a cliché that no 4-inch tail took confidence away from the dog. In the first place, it couldn't and in the second, the 4-inch tail was not where the confidence was lost. It didn't know what was happening to it. It got bumped hardest of all. Did governmental action do it? If so, I don't know just what action at just what time. Present government policy leaves no certainty or stability about anything and that is always impossible for good business—but that condition was with us both before and after the slump in about equal degree.

It is a cliché that no 4-inch tail took confidence away from the dog. Can the business big shots now filtering through the White House restore confidence? Of course not. It isn't their confidence that is lacking.

Only government can restore confidence by going off a "24 hour basis" on every principal policy and putting some element of stability under the whole business system.

Editor Register: "Needs of Society" in January 14 Register (editorial page) quotes from William Graham Sumner's book, "What Social Classes Owe to Each Other," in which he recommends disfranchisement of all persons unable to support themselves, by saying "on no sound political theory ought such a person to share in the political power of the state." To deprive anyone except morons, imbeciles and criminals from the exalted right to a voice in the affairs of our nation will result in demoralization of our "land of the free and home of the brave." There is a divine SPARK in every human being, no matter how low they may be regarded in the social scale and no political or other influences have any moral right to abridge in the least their constitutional right to a voice in our governmental business through the ballot.

Unless this right is held inviolate in our body politic this country will degrade into a land of serfs and barons like foreign countries who have thus been cursed with internal dissensions and wars.

Such an edict would include many thousands of old people who have been in "active cooperation" with their "productive energy" during their younger years, helping to build and maintain social welfare, but who have lost their savings through no fault of their own but as victims of the tricks of dishonest financial manipulations. This class of less fortunate citizens include some of the finest people whose influence is for the best interests of all. Evidently Sumner's book is based on the idea, that money is more important than humanity. Of course it is a vital element in the operations of society but his idea of confining the voting right to only those able to pay taxes is too low to receive consideration of honest people who realize that the constitutional privilege of enjoying "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" can be maintained only by the full freedom of franchise to every citizen, regardless of their financial condition.

The Editor, Register:

Dear Sir:

I continue to read with interest your editorials. Sometimes I agree with them; at other times they give me the willies. No insult, however, because they provoke more thought than the agreeable ones. Too often we allow our minds to rust, and close them to the stimulus of new ideas.

When you contend that men are created sinful, simply because the Bible says so—that is not common sense. Man is created a free moral agent, with the powers of reason and conscience. Hence, he is born non-moral, neither good nor bad, but possessing the potential possibilities of being what he chooses. If this is not so, then man is a robot, a victim of circumstances, with no moral responsibility, incapable of sin.

This becomes apparent when you remember that the quotation you made from the Bible, was spoken by a Psalmist who had been on a spree with another man's wife, and his folly resulted in murder, he blamed his mother in the words: "Behold I was shapen in iniquity and in sin did my mother conceive me." Must we limit our reason by the dribble of a degenerate? If God created men thieves or sinners, how can we expect to remedy the insanity of omniscience? A corrupt treat cannot bring forth good fruit. The Bible is equally misleading when we think man must eat his bread by the sweat of his brow, because God cursed the ground. If this record is true, it merely proves the peevishness of deity. However, I prefer to question its veracity.

I agree with your warning against collective robbery. But what man can we expect when the Scriptures from which we get our morals eulogize the collective robbery and mass murder of God's chosen people? It does not make sense! Collectivism is a reversal to barbarism, and is dangerous in its present terms. The mistake of Communism is collectivism, but if it evolved into social cooperation it might arrest the attention of the world. Socialism does not advocate collective robbery. It stresses restitution of specific property, which rightfully belongs to the masses. This is primarily an ethical question, and because of our low moral standards it would be greatly abused. It is idealistic, but not impossible or impracticable. But your remarks regarding the arbitrary wage scale was well taken. The labor movement is handicapped by ill-chosen uneducated leaders, who consider they can win their objectives by "beef," instead of "brains." It falls because of the low ethical ideal of the worker. We cannot standardize wages by an inflexible law in an ever-changing business world, where prices fluctuate. The cause of our economic trouble lies in poor leadership, whose ideal is greed, and the hope of getting something for little or nothing. This is true of both labor and capital. If we could get rid of greed, selfishness, and human parasites, the problem would be greatly simplified. But

HUNGER MERELY A STOMACH FUNCTION TO WHICH THE INTELLIGENCE REACTS

When we become really hungry, we begin to have symptoms which are the result of changes which take place in the body associated with lack of food.

Failure to take a meal at the usual time may result in faintness or headache, associated with drowsiness and tiredness and with restlessness or irritability. Reactions vary with different people. The most common single symptom of hunger is a dull, pressing pain. It is useful to be hungry. When we get hungry enough we eat without regard to fine discrimination of taste. Pork and beans may be more appetizing than broiled quail. That is one reason why desserts usually are made more appetizing than the foods served during a meal.

It used to be thought that when a person became hungry all of his body cried out for nourishment. Now it is realized that hunger is distinctly a function of the stomach reflected to the intelligence.

The sense of hunger may be suppressed by putting into the stomach any kind of indigestible material, including scraps of leather or even pieces of clay. This is verified by people who, lost in the woods, overcame the pangs of hunger by swallowing indigestible materials.

When a person becomes hungry, his stomach begins to contract. The strength of these contractions can be measured by putting a rubber balloon into the stomach, filling it full of air and allowing the stomach to rest against the balloon. The impression of the contractions is recorded on a chart.

It is possible also to see how various factors affect the contractions. Sleep will not stop them but hunger contractions may interfere with sleep. For that reason a little food before going to bed is an aid to overcoming restlessness.

Swallowing will help to stop the contractions temporarily. Great emotional excitement will have a similar effect. Smoking may weaken the contractions and sometimes will completely stop them. They also may be stopped by alcoholic drinks or by vigorous exercise.

Hungry people often tighten up their belts when hungry. Now it has been learned that if hunger contractions are not too vigorous, they can be stopped by tightening up the belt.

News Behind the News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—That was not an ordinary wind you may have heard whistling around the corners since Saturday. It was probably the collective sighs of relief from the stop row of government officials here after the appointment of Stanley Reed to the supreme court. They were afraid Roosevelt would appoint a woman.

Apparently the country was not alive to the prospects, but some insiders were. They had seen disturbing signs. Not that they thought women incapable, especially the woman generally mentioned, Judge Florence Allen. She has a better judicial reputation than many a male jurist.

But after the Black appointment, certain fears developed that Mr. R. intended to make it a political rather than a judicial court. Confidence of lawyers in the existing situation certainly needed bolstering by the selection of a lawyer of the highest possible integrity rather than a politician or even a good woman jurist appointed for political purposes.

Reed filled the bill.

Democratic house members kept mum about it at the time, but each and every one received a telephone call in person from Postmaster General Farley just before the house voted on the Ludlow war referendum resolution.

He and the president worked constantly night and day on the inside for two days. Incidentally they have more respect for Republican Leader Snell than ever before because he and most other Republican leaders declined to play politics by voting for the foolish idea which could have been very embarrassing for Mr. Roosevelt.

Watch for a swift shift in old naval shipbuilding ideas in connection with the new presidential program.

The admirals fought, bled and died for the 10,000 ton cruiser and larger ships at the last London naval conference, but have changed their minds privately since then.

New strategy generally approved on the bridge of the navy will call for cruiser of not more than 9,000 tons, probably 8,500. They are faster, can carry 8 inch guns if needed, do not require as much fuel or personnel, do not cost as much.

The admirals also want much smaller aircraft carriers in place of their present floating bulls-eyes.

Fact is the 10,000 tonners are too large to send scouting after merchant ships, and are not a match for any fighting ship beyond their size. The fuel trouble will be covered by the swift, big new oiler proposed to have built.

The smaller cruisers will be of greater advantage protecting an extensive coast line. This is another evidence of the unannounced fact that the powers here have extended their view of America's frontier "from Nome to Cape Horn."

NOTE—Even if the presented program calls for 10,000 ton cruisers and 15,000 to 19,000 ton aircraft carriers (the Lexington and Saratoga are 33,000 tons), the navy will pare these figures down in building.

Official excuse being offered for delaying the new housing bill is that Senator Wagner is sick. He really is, but the unstated fact of the matter is the other conferees are even sicker—over the Lodge prevailing wage amendment. They again face the inevitable fundamental problem of ethics.

We must bear in mind that dictatorship in any form is disastrous. At its best, it delays an impending social crisis. No dictator in history figures more than a concealed bigot, who led the people to national chaos. There is a tendency to revert to days of tyrants and feudalism, simply because we are too indolent. It is a case of "Let George do it."

Even religion has no higher ideal cannot decide what to do with it.

Here is the secret, the four Democratic senators on that conference committee are all up for re-election. So are the two Republican senators. So are all the house conferees. For one of the few times in history, all the legislators handling a bill in the conference, must face the voters next November.

Therefore it is difficult for them to face labor by voting against the prevailing wage, but to let the amendment stand would wreck the housing program. (The housing administration say so.)

Within a week or so they will whangle out an "if-and-but-however" substitute amendment, full of loopholes, and put the bill through.

What the wives in the official circle are talking about, after the Ludlow resolution, is the remarkable care which Mrs. Hull took of the state secretary during the recent international crisis. For one thing she insisted on regular meals at regular intervals, and declined to allow the sandwich and glass of milk dining, which is customary with officials working long hours in emergencies. Possibly this is the reason why the crisis was handled faultlessly.

The man who put the spine into the southern Democratic filibuster against the lynching bill was the Idaho Republican Senator Borah. Until Borah spoke out against the attempt of northern Democrats to play a little politics at the expense of their southern brethren, the southerners were just costing. They really suspected their cause was hopeless.

At a private meeting the other day they agreed to fight it through. They will not let other legislation come up until the administration floor leader agrees to put the bill aside for the session.

Apparently Borah's speech received big play in the south and created a profound impression in spots where there had not been much interest. As a result southern legislators now cannot afford to lose.

Doubt if it you will, but that is the true picture.

The dope on the tax bill is that all provisions save the one soaking Henry Ford and the one-family corporations will go through easily. A contest against that one provision is being organized in the house by Democratic Representatives Lammack and McCormack, Mass. They think they have a chance of blocking it in the full ways and means committee or in the house, but are sure the senate will kill it if they lose.

Truth is the legislators do not know much about it yet and lines have not formed conclusively.

A slick trick has been devised to get around the customs law requiring foreign made goods to be stamped as such. A certain importer of German hosiery took his shipments branded BIG (Made in Germany), treated them with a strong acid to change the color and lo, behold—the BIG was washed out, purely incidentally, and through no design of the importer, no doubt, no doubt.

German and Japanese manufacturers are said to be willing to furnish the name of acids which will wash out their stamps, if such information is needed.

Customs officers are after it.

than the reincarnation of a messiah, who will donate the millennium, but climax it with a state of greater chaos, and eventual annihilation.

This world will be saved by intelligent action, not by a divine intervention or supernaturalism. I commend your editorials as timely and educational; even though the readers may not agree with them, they are stimulating towards new ideas and hopes.
